STEEL UNION WOULD EXTEND PAY INCREASE

Seeks to Make 44-Cent Wage Boost Effective Over Entire Industry.

ACCEPTS WLB AWARD

Asks Stablization Effort Be Spread to Taxes and Living Costs.

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH—The CIO United Steel Workers union moved rapidly today to make industry-wide the war labor board's award of 44 cents a day increase in pay for 157,000 employes of four "little steel" companies, after a 125-man policy committee accepted the decision upon President Roosevelt's plea for "co-operation" in his anti-inflation efforts.

Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and USW, said telegrams were dispatched to heads of the "little steel" group—Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Inland—asking immediate resumption of contract negotiations. There were broken off last February when an impasse was reached on the questions decided by the board.

Murray also set July 21 for another policy committee meeting, to be made up of representatives from subsidiaries of the United State Steel corporation, Jones and Laughlin, Crucible, Pittsburgh Steel and other large companies. Immediately after this meeting, he said, these companies would be notified the union wanted to reopen its contracts An "escape clause" provides an agreement must be reached within 20 days, or the contracts are abrogated.

The pay increase would exceed $100,000,000 a year, if adopted throughout the industry. Executives of several of the large companies, all refusing to be named, said they believed the increase would be accepted as soon as the union reaches an agreement with the little steel group.

Under the board's order, the increase would be retroactive to February 6 to 10, when the various cases were submitted to the

96 Yesterday and On Way to About Same Mark Today

Sweltering Mansfield, caught in the summer's worst heat wave, watched the mercury climb to a season's high mark of 96 degrees yesterday and head for the 90-degree mark again today.

The temperature reached 88 at noon today, three degrees below yesterday's noon reading. There is no sign of a let-up today or tonight, the weatherman said.

Last night was the warmest of the summer and only a brisk wind kept the oppressive heat from chasing many city dwellers into the open air to sleep. Lowest reading last night was 76 degrees.

The average temperature for the past 24 hours was 86 degrees, 16 above normal. The heat was general over the state, Columbus reporting 98 degrees yesterday, Cleveland 96, and Cincinnati, 95

Five persons were overcome by the heat in Columbus and one man died in Cincinnati.

You Sign for Sugar Where You Vote, Now

Precinct Election Booths Become Registration Stations.

Richland countians will register at their voting places for additional canning sugar in August, under an agreement worked out late yesterday by the county election board and James Bailey, county rationing board clerk.

In a move to eliminate the confusion that has accompanied previous registrations for canning sugar, Bailey asked the election board to take over the rationing of sugar for fall canning and to set up a registration place in every section of the city and county.

The board agreed to handle the registration, but withheld a definite announcement of the dates until plans can be worked out for obtaining registrars in the precincts.

Clerk Philip Wolfe of the election board said, however, that housewives probably will be asked to sign up for their canning sugar during a two-day period soon after the Aug. 11 primary.

That procedure would permit the use of tables and chairs already set up in voting places, Wolfe said. A number of volunteer registrars will be needed in some communities although regular election booth officials would handle registrations in most places, he added.

Wolfe pointed out that the county's 93 precincts have an average of 162 families each. All the families could easily register in two days without any waiting in line, he said.

The plan is to have all the voting precincts open for sugar registration. One pound of sugar will be allotted for each four quarts of canned fruit, Bailey said.

Fall canning fruits will include peaches, pears, plums, apples, and grapes, Bailey said. The rationing board will take no more applications for sugar for early canning, he added.

IN COMMAND

Gen. Brereton Heads U. S. Air Forces In Middle East.

CAIRO—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton has assumed command of the United States Army air forces in the Middle East.

General Brereton, who headed the air defense of the Philippines, has been in New Delhi, India, in command of American air operations in that area and in Burma and China.

He disclosed today that in the 36 days that big American bombers have been operating in the Middle East arena they have accomplished 21 tactical missions.

In addition to bombing enemy convoys in the Mediterranean and attacking Bengasi and Tobruk, the main ports of entry for the Axis to the African theater of war, the American bombers have shot down five enemy aircraft in combat and possibly have destroyed three others, Brereton said. Three American bombers have been lost in combat since operations started here.

Bombers Over Mansfield Tonight--For Navy Show

CAP Planes to Drop Dodgers, Plugging Aviation Night, Instead of Explosives on City.

Bombing planes will range over Mansfield and 14 surrounding communities tonight but their "bombs" will not contain deadly explosive charges but thousands of dodgers publicizing Naval Aviation night to be observed at a meeting Monday evening at John Simpson Junior high school auditorium.

Seven planes flown by members of the Mansfield squadron of the Civil Air Patrol will distribute 30,000 of the handbills over Mansfield, Ashland, Loudonville, Shelby, Shiloh, Plymouth, New Washington, Bucyrus, Crestline, Mt. Gilead, Galion, Cardington, Fredericktown, Mt. Vernon and Bellville. The "bombing" will take place at about 7 p m

The dodgers will invite graduates from high schools in all of these communities to attend a special meeting Monday night in Mansfield to learn of the opportunities being offered youths to become naval aviation cadets.

The meeting is co-sponsored by the Mansfield squadron of the Civil Air Patrol and McVey post, American Legion.

Graduates attending the meeting will hear Lieut. John Crawford of the naval aviation cadet selection board at Columbus describe the training course given naval aviation cadets. Crawford and other board members will set up temporary headquarters here for a three-day stay to examine applicants.

Thirteen Mansfield area youths will be sworn in as naval aviation cadets as part of the Naval Aviation night program.

C. of C. 'War Committee' to Be Formed Monday.

Announcement that a committee whose object will be to seek new industries for Mansfield will be organized Monday by the Chamber of Commerce was made today by John G. Routzon, secretary-manager.

"We are definitely going after war plants for Mansfield," Routzon said, "ones that will be of some usefulness to the city after the war is over."

The special committee, Routzon said, will be picked at a meeting at 4 p. m., Monday by President Robert C. Remy, Atty. C. H. Henkel, H. G. Brunner, and Routzon.

FDR PROCLAIMS WAR ON BALKANS

Action Makes Citizens of 8 Nations Subject To Arrest.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— President Roosevelt, by proclamation, today formalized the declaration of war against Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria which congress had voted on June 5.

Major effect of the president's proclamation was to make "any native, citizen, or subject" of the minor Axis countries, 14 years of age or more, subject to summary arrest as an alien enemy on suspicion they are aiding, or about to aid, their home governments.

The president invoked the same restrictions on Hungarians, Rumanians and Bulgarians

Heroes' Day Observance Friday Nets $15,000; First Hour Today Brings $1,000.

BULLETIN

With the largest single purchase of Mansfield's American Heroes' day recorded shortly after noon today when a woman bought one $5,000 war bond and another $500 one, the total sales in the $35,000 campaign climbed to $22,000.

Early reports on the progress of sales of war bonds and stamps in the second of a two-day sales celebration of American Heroes day were held up today as sales-clerks flooded couriers with new sales figures.

Rav Calene, chairman of the Retail Merchants association committee sponsoring the sales program, said that more than $1,000 worth of bonds and stamps had been sold within the first hour of business today but that tabulations had not been completed as yet.

Calene said that total sales at 10 a. m. were approximately $16,500 with approximately $20,000 needed to reach the quota of $35,000 set for the drive.

Girl Scout couriers got a late start today and reports had not been tabulated by noon. Campaign chairmen were enthusiastic, however, about the progress of the bond and stamp sales.

Yesterday, war bond and stamp sales passed the $15,000 mark and campaign directors were enthusi-

MIDWAY LOSS BALLS UP JAP PLANS, BELIEF

Observers Point Out That Enemy Fails to Pursue Aleutian Attack.

OPERATIONS BARED

Navy Reveals Japanese Moves In North Pacific Costly; 45 Americans Killed.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Military observers suggested today that America's smashing victory in the battle of Midway may have forced Japan's war lords to order a halt in their offensive in the fog-shrouded Aleutians

They pointed out that no United States military installations in the long chain of islands stretching westward from Alaska have been attacked since June 4—the second day of the gigantic battle of Midway in which co-ordinated army, navy and marine airpower scored one of the greatest sea victories of all times.

This suggests, they said, that Japan's entire offensive strategy may have been "thrown out of kilter"

But they warned against unjustified optimism.

Japan's operations there have been costly, and the navy promises grimly that "operations against the enemy in this area continue."

A communique yesterday summarized all operations to date. It listed three enemy destroyers and one transport damaged, and "at least" seven enemy aircraft destroyed.

Previously, Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, had reported one Japanese cruiser sunk and an enemy aircraft carrier damaged by army fliers in the Aleutians.

Yesterday's communique also mentioned a Jap cruiser bombed "with undetermined results" and reported that enemy carriers which approached Dutch Harbor on June 3, three transports in a task force which approached Agattu, July 2, and several other enemy vessels had been attacked, all with undetermined results

To date, U S losses have been

OHIOAN SLAIN

Shot by Bandits as They Make Getaway After Robbery.

DAYTON —(AP)— A man trying to halt the escape of three masked cafe robbers was slain by a shotgun blast early today at nearby Alexandersville.

Everett "Ab" DeWeese, 34, was shot in the head by one of the trio, who obtained $280 in a robbery at the safe of Arnold Wehner, six miles south of Dayton on the Dixie highway.

DeWeese, visiting next door to the cafe, saw the bandits leave the rear door of the establishment. They carried shotguns and were masked with handkerchiefs. Armed with a pistol, DeWeese ran outside and tried to stop them. As he approached the trio, one gunman opened fire and felled him with a single blast.

The bandits fled in an automobile and 45 minutes later another cafe robbery was reported at Miamisburg, eight miles south of here.

Airtroops Land Behind Lines, Sweeping South

Tanks, Truck-Borne Infantry Press Drive To Lower Reaches of the Don River; Russians Admit Orderly Retreat; Stalingrad Push Delayed.

(By United Press)

BULLETIN

MOSCOW—(AP)—American-made Douglas Boston bombers are in operation against the onrushing German tanks in the Don basin and on the Don steppes, it was learned today.

The Axis offensive in southern Russia moved southward in a half moon drive against the Rostov gateway to the Caucasus today with the Nazis claiming an advance to the lower reaches of the River Don.

German tanks, truck-borne infantry, troop airplanes that landed behind the Russian lines and massed assault divisions swept through the Voroshilovgrad industrial section and along the eastern bank of the Donets river to reach the lower Don at a point probably 70 miles east of Rostov, according to the Axis claims.

Dispatches from the Red army front acknowledged a steady but orderly retreat toward the lower Don but said that Voroshilovgrad, which the Germans reported captured and aflame, had been by-passed by the enemy and that the Russians were gaining ground in their counter-attacks on the northern flank at Voronezh.

In the Voronezh battle, the Red army was reported to have crossed back to the west bank of the Don at one point and to have wiped out thousands of Axis troops. There was no indication, however, that this Red army onslaught had yet become strong enough to endanger the main Axis offensive toward Rostov.

For the time being, the German high command appeared to be delaying a direct drive against Stalingrad, about 175 miles to the east, and concentrating its strength against the Rostov sector, which was reported being attacked from three sides—Tagarog on the west, the Voroshilov sector on the northwest and the Don river on the east

"Panzer and motorized infantry divisions have reached the lower course of the Don river on a wide front east of Rostov," the German communique said.

"Infantry divisions annihilated encircled enemy forces, gaining further territory to the east in a frontal attack. Devastating attacks were launched by our air forces, particularly on the lower Don

"The retreat of the Soviets south of the Don, especially railroad transports, is crowding tracks and stations and was fought with particular success."

INTENSE: British Keep Edge In Continuous Egypt Fighting

BULLETIN

CAIRO—(U.P.)—United States bombers attacked the harbor of Tobruk at dusk last night and scored a direct hit on a large motorship and set fire to a tanker, it was announced today.

(By International News Service)

WITH THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN THE EGYPTIAN DESERT—The battle between British and Axis tank forces for possession of the El Ruweisat ridge continued with undiminished intensity today.

Nazi General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel poured out tremendous artillery barrages as he sent Stuka dive-bombers and mechanized forces against the Imperial units of the eighth army but nowhere was he able to halt the British initiative

While the Axis was held in check at El Ruweisat in the battle which had raged 10 miles south of El Alamein since Thursday morning, Australian, New Zealand and South African forces in the Tel El Eisa sector to the north made daring new advances in the face of heavy enemy opposition.

Smashing several German tanks out of action and throwing other Axis mechanized units out of position, the Anzacs and South Africans pressed southward from El Eisa (the hill of Jesus) on the coast and occupied a new ridge six miles distant.

The eighth army not only halted the heaviest of Rommel's attacks at both El Ruweisat and against Tel El Eisa but Imperial units have driven two important wedges into his positions.

Rommel was forced to withdraw slightly in the north, leaving a considerable body of Italians and tank units in a difficult position due west of El Alamein. They are caught in a U-shaped salient.

New Zealand forces man the El Ruweisat ridge while along the north-south line South African and Indian troops are holding to their positions firmly.

In addition to the artillery barrages and Stuka attacks Rommel also has been attempting counter-attacks with infantry. So far these assaults have resulted only in the capture by the British of

MOUNTING: Allied Sea Losses Boosted by Four More Sinkings

(By International News Service)

Four more United Nations ships, two of them American, were added to the growing list of war losses today on the basis of announcements yesterday and last night at district naval headquarters.

The last of those revealed, a large American merchantman which went down in the Caribbean area June 14, took a toll of 21 lives. Eight of these reached lifeboats and were picked up by a rescue ship, but were lost when the rescue vessel was torpedoed.

The other American ship involved was sunk April 6 in the Indian ocean, apparently by a Japanese submarine. Thirty-eight crew members and two passengers were quickly put into lifeboats as the ship burst into flames, and all have now reached the United States.

A British ship was sunk by torpedo and shellfire with a loss of three crew members. One man died of exposure as the remaining crew members drifted about in lifeboats for nine days before being picked up.

Two men from a 31-man crew were lost when a Dutch cargo ship was sunk in the Caribbean. The unofficial total for sinkings since Pearl Harbor, in the west Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico, and certain Pacific zones, now stands at 398 ships.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

This Is the Army, Mr. Jones.
(And Aren't You Proud of It?)

BROADWAY has a new show this season that is what Variety calls a "smash click at the b. o." and yet it is more than just that, it is different from the other hits, it is somehow the thrilling dramatization of a wonderful spirit.

Kilgallen

It is "This Is the Army," produced by Uncle Sam and Irving Berlin, a fine parlay, and because so many people loved it from out front, I would like to take you backstage and let you see some of the actors without their make-up and without their wigs.

These are actors who carry guns. All the time they were rehearsing to sing love ballads and dance boogie-woogie steps, they were also drilling with rifles and studying war maps.

While you are looking at them from your audience seat they are entertainers; but when they take off the greasepaint they are soldiers. Six months from now they may be in Libya, in Australia, in Iceland, in Ireland, in—God willing—Berlin.

That, I think, is what makes this different from other Broadway shows.

* * *

Come backstage. . . . Meet Julie Oshins, one of the big hits in the show. Julie, a comedian, really made a comeback in show business via the army. Some months ago, when he and his partner, Ben Lessey, split, bookings were few and far between for Julie, so scarce, in fact, that he took a job as an anonymous heckler of Maxie Rosenbloom when Maxie played Leon and Eddie's for a two week engagement.

That hurt his pride, of course. So just before "This Is the Army" opened, Julie went to Leon and Eddie's—scene of his most unimportant engagement—on a Sunday celebrity night. He ruined the people with laughter, stopped the show, murdered the other actors. Nobody could follow him—not even Milton Berle, who (given an even break) could follow the Big Tom explosion.

Julie got everything off his chest, in amusing fashion, about various booking agents who were at the ringside, other entertainers, people he knew. His theme was "Now I don't have to play politics. Now I can say anything I want. I'm in the army now."

Julie's big moment in "This Is the Army" is his strip-tease imitation of Gypsy Rose Lee. On opening night, he was told that he took too long with his strip—but he protested that he wasn't milking the part, he just couldn't find the zippers!

* * *

Lynn Fontanne dropped backstage to extend her congratulations personally to Ty Perry, who impersonates her in the show. She told Ty how impressed she was with the way he looked and talked behind the footlights and then she surveyed Pvt. Perry's slim, snake-hipped torso with a wistful eye. "Goodness," she said, "I wish I had your figure!"

Corp. James Cross, who sings "What the Well Dressed Man in Harlem Will Wear" is also appearing around town in the new Eleanor Powell picture, "Ship Ahoy." Before his induction, Corp. Cross was "Stump" of the colored dance team, "Stump and Stumpy," recently under contract to M. G. M.

Pvt. Vance Campbell was the first Boy Mayor of Yonkers. . . . And Pvt. Larry Gengo, who used to be an agent who booked chorus girls, is now one of the "girls" himself. He plays a "hostess" at the Stage Door Canteen.

* * *

Miriam Franklin, who is the captain of the "Let's Face It" chorus crew, and has appeared in numerous Broadway shows, is married to Private Gene Berg, of Uncle Sam's show. The other day she dropped backstage at "This Is the Army" and discovered that the wardrobe mistress was Miss Reilly, who had served in that capacity with "Panama Hattie." Miriam hugged Miss Reilly affectionately and for fifteen or twenty minutes they stood and chatted. Then Miss Reilly said, "You'll have to excuse me now, dear—I must get busy dressing your husband!"

* * *

Nelson Barclift, who staged the dances and does the magnificent imitation of Zorina, didn't like the costume first designed for him. "Too broad in the beam," he said, and whipped off to one of the town's most elegant couturiers to have his dancing dress made to order, for something around 300 berries.

Burlesque's contribution to "This Is the Army" is a stout comedian listed as Pvt. Henry Rosenthal in the program, but more familiar to patrons of the 42nd Street flesh salons at Hank Henry. Hank was in the funnyman tradition of Rags Raglund, Lou Costello and Bud Abbott, and like them he looked forward to a career in pictures or on Broadway. Last fall, just before Pearl Harbor, Hank took a deep breath and plunged into vaudeville with a routine he had bought with money painfully saved. That "Greetings!" card from Uncle Sam brought his vaudeville project to an abrupt halt, but—comes peace—Hank will be hammering at the big time again.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD — The dressing rooms are lined up to the left of the stage door. Away off to the right Irving Cummings is preparing a scene for "Springtime in the Rockies."

We go calling along dressing room row from one "house" to another, and we find:

John Payne's long legs stretched out from the leather day-bed far into the room—he's showing off a picture of his not-quite-2 daughter. His and Anne Shirley's. Johnny doesn't live there any more, but he's still the proud papa. "She's not very pretty," he says, "but she's sure cute."

Coons

John says he's doing nothing now but work. "I started out Saturday night to paint the town red," he says, "and I asked myself, 'Shall I paint the town red or go home?' So I went home, and I was in bed by 9 o'clock.

* * *

JOHN gets called to the set, so we go next door. Carmen Miranda is lying flat on her day-bed, her feet propped high against the wall. "Eet's the way to rest," she says. "I feel the blood come down—dancing lige theese"—business of whirling hands—"to my head. Then eet goes dancing back again."

Carmen says she is trying to buy her contract from the Shuberts because she wants to stay in California's climate and make pictures. "I buy eet—eef they not ask too much," she says. (The report is her stage bosses want $100,000—she's willing to pay $50,000.)

"You theenk I look Irish?" says Carmen, and she does—if a green and white turban, green and white jacket make a Brazilian bon-bon look like a colleen. "Een the picture I am Josita Murphy—John Payne picks me as his secretary in Detroit. I go with him—and we pick up my brothers—my barda da lua—in St. Paud."

Carmen says she will wear new turbans in this picture "No fruit, no vegetables, only flowers—and small turbans. Next time—beeg ones—like theese!"

She will sing "Chattanooga Choo-Choo" in Portuguese.

* * *

NEXT door is Charlotte Greenwood, waiting. Nothing to do all day. In a paper sack is her contribution to the rubber drive: her Peke's raincoat, an old rubber glove.

"Tomorrow I bring his rubber bone—and the mat from the rear compartment of my car," she says.

Last stop on the line is Betty Grable's "house." She's entertaining. Cesar Romero and a couple of the girls are sitting around. There's chatter, laughter, small talk.

But back on the set they're really making movies. Cummings rehearses a scene with Payne, Miranda, Edward Everett Horton, gets it in one take.

OHIO RIVER PLANTS 'HIDE' FOR 31 MINUTES

Midwest's Biggest Blackout Of War Industries Called Highly Successful.

EAST LIVERPOOL—(AP)—Vital war industries in a 50-mile Ohio river valley area were hidden for 31 minutes behind an almost impenetrable curtain of darkness last night in the midwest's most extensive blackout.

W. J. Burns, assistant director of the state defense council, who viewed the test from the air, said the tri-state area was blacked out so effectively "that visibility of the river could not be considered a dangerous factor in case of a raid."

Major Charles S. Miller, army liaison officer, asserted results were "very satisfactory and industries could not have done a better job of blacking out."

The alarm was sounded at 9:58 p. m.

Only navigation lights, airplane beacons and radio tower signals, left burning purposely, and a few residence and business lights marred the shrouding, Burns asserted.

Open hearth furnaces of steel plants in the Bellaire-to-East Liverpool district were shielded by a secret method. Burns said they were not visible from the air and that moonlight shining on the river did not disclose hidden industries.

The blackout, affecting Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania areas with a total population of 750,000, brought the death of air raid Warden Veigh Chronister, 45, of East Liverpool.

Chronister, a World war veteran, suffered head injuries when he fell into a deep gutter during the blackout and died in a hospital shortly after the all-clear was sounded. He was found by a fellow warden.

In the East Liverpool area, which also included Wellsville, O., and Chester and Newell, W. Va., Mayor O. Earl Greenawalt termed the test 100 per cent effective.

Steubenville and Jefferson county were blacked out in six and one-half minutes. Steubenville was darkened successfully a month ago.

Wheeling, witnessing its third test of the year, reported results "up to standard."

DENIES SECOND GAS HEARING

Power Commission Stands by Order For Reduction Of Ohio Rates.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The federal power commission has announced its denial of a petition by the Hope Natural Gas company for rehearing on the commission's order reducing the company's inter-state wholesale rates for natural gas sold to Ohio and Pennsylvania distributors by $3,609,857 a year.

The FPC asserted: "No new facts had been presented or alleged in the petition for rehearing which would justify a reversal or revision of the commission's opinion No. 76, findings as to lawfulness of past rates and order reducing rates, entered May 26, 1942, and no principles of law were stated in the petition for rehearing and stay which were not fully considered by the commission before it rendered said opinion, findings and order."

The commission reduced Hope's rates for natural gas, effective on bills based on meter readings made after July 15, to the East Ohio Gas company, serving Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown, Massillon, Canton and other Ohio communities, from 36.5 to 29.5 cents per thousand cubic feet. Reductions also were ordered for several Pennsylvania communities served by Hope.

The new rates will reduce natural gas rates to east Ohio by $2,820,000 annually.

The order also slashed the company's interstate rate base from $66,000,000 to $33,712,526; found 6½ per cent to be the fair rate of return on such rate base; and reduced the company's book reserve for depletion and depreciation from $38,000,000 to $22,000,000.

Wins $1,000 Bank Night Award, Will Put Some In Bonds

A Mansfield woman considered herself "pretty lucky" today after winning a $1,000 bank night award at the Madison theater last night. So she is going to invest "some of the money in war bonds and put the rest in a home."

That's what Mrs. Ella Robertson, 331 West Fourth street, winner of the award, told the bank night audience after she heard her name called. "It was such a surprise I didn't know what to say," the winner said.

Mrs. Robertson had not attended the movies for some time but said that "yesterday I felt like I wanted to go." And now she is considering "the best way to invest the money."

The award winner has lived in Mansfield with her sister, Mrs. Maude Smeltzer, for 11 years. Her former home was in Hazelton, Pa.

BETTMAN, SUPREME COURT JUDGE, TO BE BURIED AT CINCINNATI

(By United Press)

CINCINNATI — Judge Gilbert Bettman of the Ohio supreme court, a former state attorney general, succumbed last night to an old illness which had kept him off the bench most of the time during the last year. He will be buried Monday at Spring Grove cemetery.

Bettman, 60, died at Jewish hospital from the effect of a heart attack after a long illness. He had been seriously ill since February and was ordered to return to a hospital after he tried to resume work a month ago.

Bettman, a Republican, was elected to the supreme court in 1940. From 1929 to 1932 he was attorney general in the administration of Gov. Myers Y. Cooper.

Active in politics and law, Bettman was the 112th judge to serve on the supreme court during its 140-year history.

A native of Cincinnati, he was educated in the Cincinnati public schools graduating from Hughes high school in 1899 as president of his class. He was graduated from Harvard university in 1903. In 1907 he was graduated from Harvard law school with an LL. B. degree, with honors, and delivered the commencement address.

He began practicing law in Cincinnati shortly after graduation from Harvard.

Outstanding among his victories as attorney general was the East Ohio Gas case in which he obtained a U. S. supreme court decision holding gas brought into Ohio by pipe line as subject to excise taxes. That decision brought $1,676,000 in back taxes to the state treasury and established a principle which has brought hundreds of thousands of dollars to the state annually.

White-haired and dignified in appearance, Bettman was a colorful speaker. He was defeated in 1932 for the U. S. senate by Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland.

He was elected commander of the Ohio department of the American Legion in 1922. He drafted the ex-soldiers' bonus bill and was one of the Legion's representatives who presented it to the house ways and means committee.

Bettman was married in 1916 to Iphigene Molony. He is survived by three children, Gilbert, jr., 25; Carol Helen, 23; and Alfred II, 20.

Gov. John W. Bricker, an assistant attorney general during Bettman's administration as attorney general, will appoint a successor to Bettman on the high court to serve until a candidate has qualified in the November election.

Dr. Jonah Wise of New York will conduct the funeral service at 11 a. m. Monday at Bettman's Cincinnati home.

STAYS AWHILE

Bank Agrees to Handle Meter Collections For Month.

Continuance of the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank as auditing agent for the city's parking meter funds until the August meeting of council has been arranged, according to a letter Saturday from Mayor W. J. Locke to Russell Porch, chairman of council finance committee.

"The auditing agent wants it definitely understood," the mayor's letter said, "that council must accept the bank's resignation at its next regular meeting."

"It will be appreciated," the letter continued, "if you would have legislation put through council to accept this resignation, and, if you see fit, to authorize us (the administration) to appoint a new auditor."

At last Wednesday's council meeting Service Director Fred B. Wolff presented the resignation issue to council but that body tossed it back into his lap, declaring it a strictly administrative matter.

SOLDIER UNHURT AS CAR UPSETS

Escapes Injury In Freak Accident Near Crestline.

Harry R. Lewis, 25, of Galion, a U. S. soldier, escaped injury yesterday evening when his car turned over on a curve on state route 61, three miles north of Crestline. The car was considerably damaged.

State highway patrolmen who investigated the accident said that Lewis' car skidded as he was rounding a curve and rolled over in the highway, coming back to rest on its wheels.

Laff-a-Day

Up and Down the Street

Boys and girls of the Treasure Seekers club, summer reading course sponsored by the Mansfield public library, are rapidly filling their individual cardboard treasure chests with the colorful paper nuggets that denote the number of written reports they have submitted on books read this season. Ten reports means a certificate at the end of the season. Four of the 138 members have already completed the course and the Treasure Island map that indicates the progress of each member has been marked accordingly.

Passers-by on the street were stirred this morning and at least two of the Mansfield police officers sprang to attention when the burglar alarm in the Farmers bank building started ringing. Patrolmen Robert Robnolte and George Yoakam came running but learned that it wasn't a burglar but just a bank employe with a heavy foot who had caused the alarm. Peace was restored and everyone settled back into their semi-comas induced by the heat.

Deskmen at police headquarters and the sheriff's office frequently receive requests to do the impossible, and two of the officers were having some fun today with one of the complaints. Officer Claude Watts at police headquarters received a call from a Madison township man who wanted the police to do something about the neighbors' ducks which, the man said, quacked all night and kept him awake. Watts promptly referred the complainant to Deputy Sheriff G. C. Humphrey as the officer who "takes care of noisy ducks." Humphrey called Watts and explained that he had no special talents for handling ducks and he didn't think there was anything to prevent Watts from taking care of the complaint. Watts then sent Humphrey a bunch of lettuce, wrapped neatly in paper, with a message telling the deputy that ducks like lettuce and that might do the trick.

RAIL VET DIES

George R. Jesson, 74, Was Retired Erie Employe.

George R. Jesson, 74, a retired Erie railroad employe, died Friday afternoon at the Foulks Nursing home after a lingering illness. He lived at 151 West Third street.

Mr. Jesson was born in Mansfield, March 30, 1868. He was employed for many years as a car inspector for the Erie railroad, retiring 15 years ago.

The body was removed to the Geiger funeral home, where services will be held, conducted at 2:30 p. m. Monday by Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Surviving are three brothers, Walter and Archie of Mansfield, and Frank of Florida; five sisters, Mrs. Lydia Ellison, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Anna Cunningham, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Myna Schwartz, Barberton; Mrs. Harriet Woodman, Detroit, Mich.; and Mrs. Alice Conlon, Toledo; one step-daughter, Mrs. Theressie Shriner, Mansfield, and three grandchildren, Mrs. Abbie Codger of Cleveland, Harvey Shriner and Mrs. R. M. Whitcomb, both of Mansfield.

BACK TO NORMAL

Detroit Transportation Strike Ends; Mayor Seeks Dismissals.

DETROIT —(INS)— Public transportation facilities returned to normal in Detroit today as Mayor Edward J. Jeffries moved to fulfill his pledge that the ringleaders of a 16-hour wildcat strike among the department of street railway employes would be fired.

After listening to the plea from James Hoffa, business agent of the union, the strikers voted to end the walkout last night. But the mayor said the strikers would not be taken back.

END OF TRIAL EXP'CTED IN COMING WEEK

Government Concludes Its Evidence Against 4 Nazis Who Landed In Florida.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Completion of the government's case against eight Nazi saboteurs landed by submarine on American soil drew near today as evidence was presented against the four who came ashore on a Florida beach.

The secret trial entered its tenth day before President Roosevelt's special military tribunal with indications that it may end some time next week. Attorney General Francis Biddle, heading the prosecution, said a Sunday session may be held to expedite the proceedings.

All evidence and testimony against the four Nazis who were landed near Amagansett, Long Island, has been completed with reading of a "very long statement," presumed to be a confession by George John Dasch, leader of the group.

Dasch spoke more freely than his partners in the grandiose scheme of destruction—a plan nipped by federal bureau of investigation agents—but all eight have confessed the part they would have played if given the chance.

It was evident that the confessions of the Florida quartet were presented yesterday as Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, president of the commission, spoke of "several documents" being read incidental to the questioning of seven ace FBI counter-espionage agents.

Photographic evidence also was produced showing explosives, abrasives, clothing and other equipment found by the FBI on a beach near Jacksonville, Fla.

Leader of the Florida group was Edward John Kerling whose wife, seized as a confederate in the round-up of "contacts" and harborers, faces interment in one of the several camps erected for dangerous enemy aliens. Kerling was accompanied ashore by Herbert Hans Haupt, whose parents are held as confederates, Hermann Otto Neubauer, and Werner Thiel.

The majority of witnesses heard thus far have been the FBI counter-espionage agents who apprehended the saboteurs.

Ten of the saboteurs' 14 confederates were arraigned in Chicago, Brooklyn, N. Y., and New York City yesterday. They are held on charges of being accessories.

Three other confederates of the saboteurs, all aliens, will be placed in interment camps as dangerous, while another is being held for further investigation.

Commandos of Air Graduate at Ohio Air Base Sunday

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The first class of glider pilots—commandos of the air—will be graduated Sunday, without ceremony, from the new Lockbourne army air base, Maj. R. F. Burnham, the school's training director, announced today.

Major Burnham declined to disclose the number of graduating pilots but said the class was small in comparison with those to be turned out later in the summer.

The initial graduates began their training at Lockbourne July 6 after four weeks of preliminary instruction elsewhere.

With the exception of one commissioned officer, Capt. Gilbert M. Slaughter of Baker, La., the graduates of the school will receive ratings of staff sergeant.

A second class began instruction last Monday and a third group will enroll next Monday, Major Burnham said.

BADGES GIVEN TO SEVEN CUBS

Awards Presented to Boys at Picnic In South Park.

Seven members of Cub Pack No. 4 received advancement badges and certificates at a picnic and re-registration meeting last night at South park.

Paul Snyder, area cubbing commissioner, presented the new troop charter for the coming year and also the 1942 registration cards for pack officials. Advancement awards and cub certificates were given out by C. G. Knarr, cubmaster.

Boys winning advancement badges were Larry Goldsmith, Tom Hansburger, Cliff Knarr, Robert Cushman, Hugh Meilinger, Tom Henry and Charles Edmonstone. The last three boys named are graduating from the pack and are to enter Boy Scout troops.

50 FROM CITY GO TO LAKESIDE SUMMER SCHOOL

Lutheran Pastors and Church Representatives to Attend Week's Sessions.

More than 50 pastors and representative members of the five Mansfield Lutheran churches will leave tomorrow and Monday for the 21st annual Lutheran summer school at Lakeside. Sessions which open Monday will be wound up next Sunday, July 26.

Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will serve as dean of the summer school and chairman of the summer school committee.

Approximately 500 people from the whole state are expected to enroll in next week's classes. Subjects on the curriculum will deal with missions, church music, religious education, and pastors' training.

The conference will be concluded at the Sunday morning worship service when Dr. George W. Miley, president of the Lutheran Synod of Ohio, addresses the conferees.

Begins Summer Sermon Series

Rev. Glenn F. Lewis, rector, will begin a summer series of sermons on the general theme "On Being a Christian Soldier" next Sunday morning at Grace Episcopal church at 10:45. His topic this Sunday will be "Enlistment In the Christian Army."

Louise Krause, organist, will play "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach for the prelude, "Fugue In E Minor" by Bach for the postlude, and "Andante" from the "Sixth Sonata" by Mendelssohn for the offertory solo.

Holy communion will be celebrated in the chapel at 8 a. m. Church school pupils will worship with the congregation at 10:45 until the sermon and go to their classrooms for project work under the direction of Mrs. Allan Stoodt and Mrs. Wilmot Pierce.

Women of the parish and community will sew for the Red Cross all day Thursday in the undercroft. Members of St. Agnes' guild and their families will hold their annual picnic at North Lake park Thursday evening at 6:30.

St. Mark's Church Services Listed

Basing his sermon on the text, Mark 8:1-9, Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, will speak on "The Compassion of Christ" tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. The choir anthem is "Hear Lord, Our God," by Tschaikowsky.

During the adult worship service, children of the church will hold young people's services in the primary rooms.

Lutheran activities next week are headed by the annual Lutheran summer school at Lakeside, July 20-26. Rev. Portz and others from St. Mark's church are expected to attend. Also scheduled is the annual Sunday school picnic at Johns park, Wednesday afternoon.

Sermon, Musical Numbers Announced

Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will use "The Christian Faith In a World of Error" for his sermon subject at the 10:45 a. m. worship service tomorrow.

Vocal music for the service will consist of a quartet anthem, "God Is Love," by Shelley; and the offertory solo, sung by Miss Doris Ranck, entitled "Consider and Hear Me" by Harker. Miss Mabel Zehner, church organist, will play three selections.

The only item on next week's church calendar is a picnic of the Helping Hand Bible class, Friday noon at North park.

Services To Be Held All Day

Beginning with Bible study at 10:30 a. m., tomorrow the Christ Gospel Mission, 234 North Diamond street, will hold services all day.

Rev. and Mrs. Walter Borger of Bloomingdale, special singers, will be in charge of a song service to be held from 2 to 3 p. m. in the afternoon. An evangelistic message will then be given by Rev. John Goon, pastor of the mission.

During the 8 p. m. vesper service Rev. C. W. Finch, superintendent of the Marion district, will appear as guest speaker. Arrangements for the all-day services were made by Rev. J. B. Maxwell, Mansfield district superintendent.

Guest Pastor At Park Avenue Church

Dr. W. H. Bowler of the Ohio Baptist convention will be guest speaker at the Park Avenue Baptist church during the worship service tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

A quartet, composed of Miss Clarabelle Merryman, Mrs. Lawrence Whisler, George Lake and Harry Boyd, will sing "Lead Me, Lord" by Wesley. Lawrence S. Frank, church organist, will play Bach's "Adagio from Violin Sonata," "Abbey Chimes" by Meale and "A Netherlands Folk Song" by Zwart.

Next week's calendar includes Circle 1 at the home of Mrs. A. O. Widders, 126 Poplar street, at 1:30 p. m., Thursday; prayer meeting with J. M. Wooden as leader, 7:30 p. m., Thursday; and Circle 4 picnic dinner at the home of Mr. J. L. Robb, 667 Clifton boulevard, Friday noon.

'Worst Person Converted,' Topic

Continuing his Sunday evening series of sermons on "The Worst Characters in the Bible," Rev. Grover E. Swoyer will preach on "The Worst Person Converted in the Bible" tomorrow at the 8 p. m. service.

The Junior choir anthem will be "Lo, a Voice to Heaven Sounding" and choir director Frederick Wolff will sing "Repent Ye" by Scott as the offertory solo.

At the 9:45 morning service Rev. Milton C. Johnson, assistant pastor, will use "Wages and Gifts" as his sermon topic. Special music for this service includes a solo, "Trust Ye in the Lord," sung by Miss Miriam Culler, and a selection by the choir quartet.

Led by Miss Jeanette Carver, the young people of the church will discuss "More Danger Spots" at the Luther league meeting Sunday at 7 p. m.

District meetings scheduled next week are the Sixth district, Thursday noon; and the Eighth district quilting, all day Tuesday.

Services Announced For St. Paul's

Speaking on the subject, "What Christian Leaders Need Most," Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will preach tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

Mrs. Glenn Miller will appear before the adult Sunday school to explain the month's missionary topic, "What Are the Children of the Church?" During the worship service, the children's departments will hold study periods.

Women of the church will sew next Friday at Red Cross rooms. Choir rehearsal is scheduled for 7 p. m., Friday.

Preaches Third In Sermon Series

Preaching the third in a series of sermons on the general theme, "Jesus Today," Rev. Paul H. Salesteé will use "Religion In a Carpenter Shop" as his sermon topic for the 10:30 a. m. worship service tmorrow at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church.

Activities during the week include the Ladies Aid society, 2 p. m., Thursday and Junior choir rehearsal, 6:45 p. m. Friday.

Christian Church Services Announced

Preaching another in his summer series of sermons, Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger will tell "The Fifth Story In Life's Building" during the worship service tomorrow at 9 a. m. at the First Christian church.

Special music for the service consists of the choir anthem, "O Thou From Whom All Blessings Flow" by Tschaikowsky, and Mark's "Love Divine," sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. F. N. Brannon, Mrs. O. F. Shively, Robert Crowl and C. B. Swaidner.

Sermon To Compare Two Disciples

Bringing out the contrast between two Disciples' lives before and after being filled with the Holy Spirit, Rev. J. Campbell White, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, will preach at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow on "Peter and Paul in Action after the Pentecost."

Three of the church's young women will leave tomorrow for a one-week young people's conference at Muskingum college in New Concord. They are Betty Dickson, Jean Finney and Helen Marie McClure.

During the month of August Rev. White will preach only on the first and last Sundays of the month. A guest pastor will speak at the August 16 service. There will be no preaching service August 9 and 23.

Outdoor Service Set For Sunday

Members of the First Congregational church school will hold outdoor worship services tomorrow morning at the Parish house, Park avenue west. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. H. E. Edwards class of intermediate girls.

During the church service at 10:45 a. m., Rev. Peter Young will preach on "Creatures of Hope." The choir, under the direction of A. LeMoine Derr, will sing "Lead Us, O Father" by Spross, and Frances Carter will present a solo, "Prayer Perfect."

Next week's calendar is headed by a picnic for the church school officers and teachers at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, at the Parish house.

'LIFE' SUBJECT FOR SCIENTISTS

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 19, 1942. It will have for the Golden Text: "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself." (John 5:26).

Included in the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon are the following correlative passages from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." "Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death" (John 8:12, 51). "It is a sin to believe that aught can overpower omnipotent and eternal Life, and this Life must be brought to light by understanding that there is no death, as well as by other graces of Spirit."—Science and Health, pp. 428, 429).

The first European settlement in the western hemisphere was in Santo Domingo.

NAZIS SWERVE, PERIL ROSTOV; REDS RETREAT

Airtroops Land Behind Lines As Smashing Assault Hits Toward Lower Don River.

The Russian reports, indicating that the usual scorched earth policy had been applied to the Donets industrial sector as well as Voroshilovgrad, said that many towns were burning to permit an orderly withdrawal, presumably to the Don river line.

The Don river is the last important natural barrier across the flate countryside of the northern Caucasus but at this time of year it is shallow and may provide a difficult line to defend. The German forces probably will attempt to clear out the entire big bend of the Don river, stretching eastward to within 35 miles of Stalingrad and to take Rostov before attempting any deep push into the Caucasus.

A possibility remained that the Russian counter-attacks in the Voronezh sector might cut into the Axis flank if Soviet Marshal Semyon Timoshenko can mass sufficient strength there after one of the most exhausting battles of the war.

Pushed back at Voronezh and facing strong counter-attacks at the southern end of the front, the Germans were throwing all available reserves into action as their planes landed troops behind the Russian lines, front dispatches reported.

Many towns and villages were reported aflame along the 200-mile battle front between Voronezh and the Millerov-Voroshilovgrad area.

All reports from the front indicated that the pincers movement which the Germans launched last week to encircle Voronezh had miscarried.

The Russians still held the city and they had pinched off sizeable parts of the northern and southern claws, forcing the Germans to rush in troops from the rear and from other sectors.

(The Germans asserted July 7 that they had taken Voronezh. Yesterday they claimed Voroshilovgrad.)

A bulletin of the official news agency Tass said that Russian bombing planes hammered continually at German airdromes on all fronts and that in one day they destroyed 110 planes and three hangars in attacks on four enemy airdromes. In an attack on an airdrome in the Don plains, a Russian squadron destroyed 25 grounded enemy planes, Tass said.

The Russians reduced the pace of the German drive in the Millerovo area but the situation remained serious as the enemy continued to send reinforcements into the battle and air borne troops sought to disorganize the Russian rear.

Today's noon communique reported that the Russians still were pushing back the Germans at Voronezh despite fierce resistance.

South of Voronezh, the Russians fought their way back across the Don and opened counter-attacks at the southern end of the front.

The noon communique reported the Germans were trying to hold their positions in the Voronezh area at all costs. Their casualties were reported heavy.

In one Voronezh sector, the communique said, Russian tanks broke into the enemy line and the infantry, following, forced the Germans into a hurried retreat.

The Russians still were counter-attacking in several other sectors of the Voronezh area at the north end of a 20-mile battle line.

The midnight communique noted fighting of local importance on the Kalinin front northwest of Moscow.

Sees Nazis Making Supreme Effort

ALDERSHOT, England—(U.P.)—The Axis offensive in southern Russia "may be the maximum effort of the German war machine," Minister of Production Capt. Oliver Lyttleton said today in a speech.

Nazi Raider Bombs British Coast Town

LONDON—(INS)—A lone German raiding plane early today bombed and machine-gunned the residential area of an English southeast coast town.

A row of small houses suffered a direct bomb hit, killing a mother and her two children and another woman. Other persons were believed trapped under the wreckage.

No enemy planes were reported in the vicinity of London where several bombs were dropped yesterday from a single plane which gave the British capital it 557th alert.

Allied Bombers Sweep South Pacific Area

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA — (INS)— Allied aircraft swept over a wide range of the southwest Pacific on bombing and reconnaissance missions and returned to their bases without loss, an official communique announced today.

An Allied bombing squadron attacked Rabaul, Japanese base on the island of New Britain, east of New Guinea, and caused heavy damage to dock facilities and shipping, the comunique stated.

Reconnaissance flights were made over Timor and Tulagi in the Solomon islands. These Japanese bases have been bombed in recent raids. A Zero fighter was shot down over Timor, and two seaplanes were destroyed over Tulagi.

Planning to 'Bomb' City

"Bombing" attacks will be made on Mansfield and several other cities in this area tonight when seven planes from the Mansfield squardon of the Civil Air Patrol will "bomb" homes with dodgers publicizing Naval Aviation night in Mansfield Monday evening. Shown above making last minute arrangements for the "bombings" are left, to right, Edwin James, representative of the Mansfield squadron, Lieut. Rowland E. Wilson of the naval aviation cadet selection board, and Chief Petty Officer William G. Cox, Mansfield navy recruiting officer.

Japs Forced Back From Chekiang Port

CHUNGKING —(AP)— The Japanese garrison at recently-captured Wenchow, a port in South Chekiang province, has been forced to retire under heavy Chinese pressure, the Central News agency reported today.

Chinese forces were reported re-entering the city with the Japanese retreating to the south.

In North China, Central news said the Japanese had captured Hsiaoyi, in central Shansi province, after an engagement of several days.

The news agency's account of the Chinese success at Wenchow apparently contained later news than was included in today's high command communique which said a Chinese column had reached the city's suburbs Thursday night.

The communique said the enemy suffered heavy casualties about the port city.

In Kiangsi province, which adjoins Cheakiang, the high command reported that Kinki, town 80 miles south of Namchang which often has changed hands, again in possession of the Chinese.

STILL WILLING

163 of 170 'Left-Overs' Ready To Donate Blood.

All but seven of 170 Mansfielders who volunteered for the Red Cross blood donor service but weren't called in May will be on hand when the Cleveland mobile blood donor unit come to Mansfield, Sept. 3-4.

That was indicated today when the reply cards sent out with questionnaires were returned to the Red Cross offices. And the reasons given by the seven, or their families were sound.

Six of the group have been inducted into the armed forces since May or expect to be by September. Illness prevents the seventh from becoming a donor.

Asks Transfer of $225 to Complete Runway Marking

Transfer of fund to provide a total of $475 will be necessary for marking of runways at Mansfield municipal airport, according to Service Director Fred R. Wolff.

Council will be asked at its next meeting to take $225 from the runway lengthening fund and earmark it for marking purposes. In February the city appropriated $5,000 for port improvements.

"Marking work should be completed in one continuous operation," Director Wolff explained. With no immediate need for lengthening of runways, transfer of funds cataloged for that purpose will serve better in providing immediate marking."

Workmen have been engaged for some weeks in carrying out minor port improvements provided under the appropriation legislation.

PROBE REPORT

New York Police Hear Another 'Parachutist' Story.

MIDDLEBORO, Mass. — (INS) — State police today investigated a report that a lone parachutist had landed in the wooded area of Long Pond. A searching party combed the neighborhood where Selectman Henry L. Pember of Lakeville reported seeing the parachutist descend.

NORWALK — (U.P.) — Funeral services will be held Monday for Rev. Father George Forst, 67, pastor of St. Paul's Catholic church, who died yesterday after a long illness.

PLAN TO SPREAD CONSUMER DATA

Civilian Defense Workers Organize For Fall Program.

Plans to inform the consumer on the wartime buying of food, clothing and household materials were set up by the consumers division of Mansfield Civilian Defense at the initial meeting of the organization yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A.

The co-operation of all women's clubs in the city will be sought by the group which expects to work with the defense chairmen of the various organizations.

A general meeting of all chairmen will be held this fall to explain the ways in which they may aid the division such as distributing consumer literature from state and national OCD to their respective organizations.

In the meantime an information center will be established at the Ohio Fuel Gas company, according to Mrs. Hobart Lime, chairman.

MIDWAY LOSSES HAMPERING JAPS

Observers Say Defeat Hit Plans For Offensive In Aleutians.

"a number" of aircraft, and the old, 3,094-ton, station ship Northwestern, which was destroyed during the second, and last, attack on Dutch Harbor on June 4. This attack had not been reaveled officially until yesterday.

The only other accomplishments of the enemy include "minor" damage to the naval station at Dutch Harbor and the army post at nearby Fort Mears.

The communique reported 94 casualties sustained during the two raids on Dutch Harbor—44 military personnel killed and 49 wounded, one civilian employe killed. No mention was made of possible casualties sustained during occupation of the three islands.

Observers thought it significant that the communique made no mention of a claim broadcast in German over the Berlin radio on July 10 that a large Japanese troop convoy had landed in the Aleutians. There has been no official comment on the report, but the navy described its communique as a "resume of operations in the Aleutian islands to date," indicating the claim was unfounded.

The communique emphasized throughout that U. S. forces were and are prepared for any Japanese moves, and that the enemy occupation elements are being harrassed constantly.

Observers thought it a reasonable presumption that reinforcements are being rushed into the threatened area as rapidly as possible.

WATCHMAN KILLS SELF

SANDUSKY — (AP) — Melvin Powell, 60, watchman at a waterfront dock, killed himself last night while on duty by firing a 32 calibre revolver bullet into his head, Erie county Coroner Edward Wiegand said.

board. That would mean the average "little steel" worker would receive a back pay check of more than $50 if the companies accept the award. None of the concerns involved has issued a statement giving its position.

The union says it has contracts with 1,000 companies employing 625,000 workers, in addition to the 157,000 employed by "little steel."

The basic wage, for common labor, in the industry is 72½ cents an hour, $5.80 for an eight-hour day.

The "little steel" committee, in accepting the award after a three-hour session last night, said in a resolution the union workers "embraced the opportunity of being in the forefront in carrying out the national policy which will aid our nation in its war total survival."

"The labor board upheld the union's contention that through the establishment of union security and the check-off, the full effort and energy of all of the steel workers can henceforth be contributed toward obtaining maximum production of steel so vital to winning the war.

"We do not agree with the analysis of the majority members of the board that its wage award will meet the living cost problem of the steel workers. This award is based upon the president's seven-point national economic program, calling for national stabilization of cost of living.

"Wages cannot and must not be the sole object of the stabilization effort. The workers now look toward the president and congress to carry through the remaining portions of the national economic program, such as an effective tax program and a real effective freezing of prices of goods, rents and other items of cost.

"We shall watch this phase of the program most carefully. The workers are entitled to know whether their living costs are going to be stabilized."

BRITISH HOLD EDGE IN EGYPT

more and more Italian and German troops.

(A Rome broadcast quoted a Stefani (Italian) News Agency dispatch in which it was admitted that in the central El Alamein sector the British had penetrated "into a vast space separating our defenses and spread out to the rear of our defenses. The Stefani agency said that Axis forces ultimately stemmed the attack and took counter-action. The latest Axis report said that the British incursion was "almost" eliminated.)

Where the Axis was driven back Rommel's forces began digging in hurriedly and laying mine fields about a mile behind their original positions. The British harried the Germans and Italians continuously with tank sorties and gun barrages.

Dust storms prevented close observation of the engagements, particularly the battle of El Ruweisat, the heaviest tank engagement since the British withdrawal from Libya.

The clash at El Ruweisat was joined at 10 a. m. Thursday morning. Within the first few hours of battle several German tanks were destroyed.

The whole German 15th armored division and parts of the 21st division launched the attack against positions held by New Zealanders and Indians. These opened up a furious barrage of anti-tank fire against the charge.

Infantry forces accompanying the Nazi Panzers were met in hand-to-hand combat as well as by machine-gun fire and many prisoners were taken.

Despite the fact that this correspondent gained a vantage point atop the escarpment not much could be seen of the battle because of the swirling dust. But the clanking of tanks and the banging of guns emerging from the dust clouds was terrific.

The Germans in this engagement, it was learned, employed at least three American-made General Grant tanks captured in the Libyan campaign as well as the heaviest type of tank produced in Germany.

The Royal Air Force continually strafed the enemy lines and bombed his bases immediately behind the battle area.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1942.

Drive carefully tomorrow—and keep well over to the right, so as to give nit-wits plenty of room to pass.

And just to think—it wasn't so very long ago that people were wondering what to do with their "new leisure."

Then again, those occupants of the monkey cage in the zoo may think that people are passing along merely to entertain them.

Heroes Honored, Bonds Sold

MANSFIELD'S observance of nationally designated "Heroes' day" yesterday not only gave opportunity for fitting recognition of meritorious service in a military way, and paying tribute to the young men who have already given their lives for their country, but it also placed further emphasis on civilian tasks that must be done by those who remain at home.

As heretofore, the response of Mansfielders to the appeal to make Heroes' day an occasion for buying more war savings stamps and bonds was prompt and willing, and the retail merchants of this city are to be commended for the interest, enthusiasm and co-operative effort they are putting into this month's intensive drive to sell stamps and bonds.

Each day more and more people are realizing that regular purchase of war savings stamps and bonds, to the extent of ability, is an essential part of the national war effort, and that 10 per cent of earnings is a reasonable minimum to devote to this purpose.

A more recent suggestion, worthy of consideration, is that persons with over-large savings accounts might well invest a part of these savings in one of the several forms of war savings bonds, as a means of protecting their "total wealth," which would be made valueless by Axis victory.

Subject of 'Needless Noise' Revived

WHY is nothing more being said, or done, about reducing unnecessary noises, an annoyed Mansfielder asks.

For a time, he says, while public attention was being directed to that subject, there was noticeable improvement, but now there has been a drift back to bedlam, and he wonders why.

Just "human nature," that's all. You know that old saying about "taking all kinds of people to make a world"—and a city of Mansfield's size has fair representation of "kinds."

We confidently believe that an unusually high percentage of Mansfield people can be fairly classed as "good citizens," that they regularly follow an honest, law-abiding course, that they are thoughtful of others and that they would not, under any circumstances, intentionally injure, annoy or disturb anyone else.

But there is also a small percentage here, as elsewhere, which fits into the various classifications of criminal, vicious, moronic, ignorant and thoughtless, and which not only makes policing necessary but creates all such problems as that of unnecessary noise, reckless driving, and the like.

Eliminating needless noise seems to take on added importance now, because of the varied shifts of industrial workers, with requirement for daytime sleep by those on night shifts, and the need for neighborhood quiet is being strongly stressed, as well as elimination of unnecessary automobile horn-honking, which has the effect of waking even sound sleepers.

Individual action, in the form of a request to horn-blowing addicts, or their employers, may be effective in some instances, but further education in thoughtfulness—or police action under the nuisance ordinance—appears essential to substantial improvement.

Delivery Boats and Water Taxis

WATER taxi service is the latest. Michigan lake resorts, dependent on vacation business for their livelihood, are, like other places, faced with an ever nearer gas rationing. Something had to be done about it, hence water taxis.

Local residents are using boats for taxi and delivery purposes. Cadillac, Whitehall, Traverse City and other lake shore towns will have grocery boats, going from cottage to cottage. Other boats will take vacationers where they want to go. Lack of tires need not therefore keep away the perennial and profitable summer visitor.

This is not an entirely new idea. Canadian water resorts have had their little supply boats for more than thirty years, especially among groups of islands. Sometimes they bring the mail along with groceries, carrying, also, racks and festoons of sneakers, bathing suits, picture post cards and bananas. The boats use gasoline—but they do not use rubber tires.

Flag Code Becomes Uniform

ANOTHER of the American Legion's patriotic objectives has been attained in the congressional action and presidential approval of a resolution which provides an authentic flag code and establishes rules and customs in flag etiquette for civilians and civilian groups.

An important provision standardizes the pledge of allegiance to the flag, in which there had heretofore been some variation. Rules for proper display of the flag on various occasions are also provided.

The National Americanism Commission of the Legion announces that it will soon have ready a revised edition of a pamphlet, for free distribution, which will answer questions that may arise as to the new law and also make the flag code available in convenient form.

Loyal French Spurn Nazi Jobs

THE NAZIS, who are desperately short of good workers, polled 10,000 French railway workers, offering them jobs in Germany. How many volunteers came forward out of the 10,000? Eleven.

The next step was to try to persuade Frenchmen to go to Alsace-Lorraine which is under German domination, but which in the minds of Frenchmen rightfully belongs to France. Workers from that province would then be moved into Germany proper. So far, not much luck has attended that proposal, either. The Nazis seem a little hesitant about actually picking up French workers and sending them into work-slavery, as they have done with Poles.

And now rubber heels are to be made with maplewood cores, saving, it is estimated, 5,000 tons of rubber annually. Rubber heels themselves may be the next to go.

TOO SOON TO BRAG

Consider Exemptions Debatable

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON — The case of exemption life insurance premiums from income taxes is more debatable than exempting payments on debt, and probably less debatable than exempting alimony payments.

In the case of payment on debts the point which persuaded the house of representatives not to allow it was simply that it gave what seemed to most members of the house an unfair advantage to the man who had bought heavily mortgaged property. It enabled him to accumulate a considerable equity of savings tax free, whereas the man with a similar income who attempted to put by something for a rainy day in some other manner would be penalized.

Of course there is the additional reason, in both debt payments and life insurance premiums, that the treasury would lose a great deal of revenue, on the whole, if these deductions were permitted, and Henry Morgenthau, jr., is not partial to any plan which would cut the treasury's estimates for revenue.

In the case of life insurance premiums, actually, the same logic applies as to debt payments, though the point is not as obvious. This is so because for the most part life insurance premiums are paid as a guard against want for the loved ones of the person insured.

Actually, however, the man paying heavy life insurance premiums is building up an estate just as surely as the man who is making partial payments every year on a piece of real estate.

If A carries a total of $50,000 life insurance, whereas B, with the same income and the same family obligations, carries only $2,000, obviously under the plan for exemption of life insurance premium payments which the house rejected A would have an enormous advantage over B in providing for his family.

* * *

THIS is true whether either of the men dies early or lives to a ripe old age. If A dies early, his family get $50,000, the premiums for which, under the rejected plan, had been tax free. If he lives on to enjoy the paid up value of his policies he will have made a saving which had not borne its share of taxes by the federal government.

Whereas if B dies early, not only does his family suffer from the paucity of his insurance, but he would not have had time to make the savings which he contemplated in lieu of insurance. If he lives a long time, every dollar of saving he makes bears its heavy share of taxation, all the heavier because of the exemption of so many in the A class.

It is a little difficult to see, however, why the house made this decision in view of its failure to extend relief to men paying alimony. It is especially strange in view of the fact that the house did not act to compel joint returns of husbands and wives.

* * *

ACTUALLY, the proposal for alimony relief has always been the extension of the community property tax to divorced persons. Thus if a man and wife in California, or Texas, or any of the many states which have the community property law to which the treasury so strongly objects, have an income of $20,000 a year, each makes a return of $10,000, thus escaping the steep surtaxes on income above $10,000.

But if that couple are divorced, and the man pays the wife an alimony say of $8,000 a year, the man pays the income tax on the total $20,000 of income, while the wife pays nothing. The man cannot even charge off a dependent's allowance of $400 a year for the wife. This is specifically prohibited. Nor is he entitled to a married man's exemption. This is forbidden in the language of the law.

We've a Job to Do

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

IT'S AN AMAZING THING, that new Walter Wanger production which had its world premier in San Francisco recently and will soon hit your town. Startling, thrilling, heart-breaking, with incredible photography.

Of course you could say these things of many war pictures. And then go home, toss off a Denver sandwich with milk or beer and go quietly to bed with your life untouched. But you'll not go comfortably to bed after seeing "Eagle Squadron," and if your life is left untouched by its horror and beauty, you're dumber than I am, Gunga Din! For here's a picture that smashed something in me, held me sitting there with the tears streaming unashamed and the pain of it opening a new horizon in my heart. And I'm no sissy.

Chances are you know the theme. The story of those young Americans who enlisted in the R. A. F., sharing its ghastly hazards, earning for themselves the title of the "Eagle Squadron." That's familiar enough in other splendid pictures.

But as you watch these youngsters doing their stuff, doing the bestial, inhuman stuff which youngsters must do these days, you forget all the films that have gone before. You even forget that this is a film. For suddenly the war becomes alive for you. You aren't just out for an evening's amusement. You're caught up in a world's agony. The sweat on those straining young bodies, the shock in their stern, set eyes, the blood spilling into puddles around their mangled planes, suddenly that becomes YOUR sweat and blood — YOUR CAUSE WHICH MUST SOMEHOW BE SEEN THROUGH TO THE END.

There's no use in pretending that this war seems real to most of us yet. But I'll eat my typewriter if that picture, "Eagle Squadron," doesn't make it seem real to every man, woman and child in America who goes to see it.

For it dares to be real, that picture. It dares to show the mutual and exasperating misunderstanding between the British and the Americans. It dares to expose the stupidity which has made us blind to the fact that this war is everyone's war despite our individual pettiness or prejudice. And if you've a heart in you or an imagination, it will break down the wall of complacency that has been stifling you for years.

There's that unforgettable scene of the little London refugee tads playing together at a beach picnic. Small, strained, white faces breaking again into laughter—wizened baby hands and feet daring again to grasp at pleasure. And then the sudden swoop of the German planes screaming down like vultures, sending them in a wild scramble for the shelter of an English truck. As they had sought shelter so often in the blitzes that had broken their lives.

But this time they are not helpless. They have known only for a few weeks the warming, healing blessing of love and peace, but they have learned to hope.

There's love, too, as tortured and tangled as most young love is nowadays. American boy flier, British girl, officer in the Women's Corps. Drawn irresistibly together although utterly lacking the key to each other's hearts. Yet life rises in them, fighting against the holocaust of death. But have they the right to yield to it, to love and rejoice while a world is crumbling? Lips yearning, eyes battling, they face each other. The war has brought their desire to a quick harvest.

"Then why shouldn't we marry if we want each other so?" says the stubborn American boy.

But the girl, though she quivers with longing, cries "BECAUSE WE'VE A JOB TO DO!"

"We've a job to do—" England and America, all those peoples who fight for freedom and the dignity of the individual soul, "We've a job to do!" And before the challenge of that job all the personal barriers go down, as they once went down a hundred and fifty years ago that this nation might be born out of the agony and hope. Then we fought for America's freedom. Now, reunited, we fight for the freedom of all the world.

"WE'VE A JOB TO DO!" DOESN'T THAT WAKE YOU, WIDEN YOUR HORIZONS, MAKE YOU SEE THAT THE SMALLEST PERSONAL SACRIFICE BECOMES A GLORIFIED PART OF HUMAN HISTORY?

No, I'm not telling you to see that show. I'm just pitying you if you don't.

One Among Millions.

"My boy is just one among millions," said Mrs. Fred Henderson of Lorain, mother of Major Lofton Henderson, marine corps flier who drove his plane down the stack of a Japanese warship during the Midway battle. "I'm deeply proud of him," the Ohio mother said, "but countless other sons and mothers are going through the same thing."

Yes, Mrs. Henderson, your son was one among millions. And it is plain to see where he got the bravery that distinguished him among the many gallant men who gave their lives for their country in the battle of Midway.—Akron Beacon-Journal.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Inflationary Trend Gains Ground As Wages and Farm Prices Mount

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE COST OF LIVING in America during June was lower by a shade than when Price Administrator Leon Henderson fixed retail price ceilings in mid-May.

But even before the end of June Henderson was hoisting warning flags of danger ahead for the price control program. A 2½-cent increase in the price of gasoline on the eastern seaboard was an illustration, he said. Subsidy payments by the government, instead of increased prices paid by consumers, should have made up the increase in transportation costs incurred because of the war.

A day or so later he announced an increase, above the ceiling, in prices on the 1942 pack of canned and dried fruit, and a week later he added vegetables to the list.

Center of the inflation stage during the week was held by the Henderson-Congress feud over appropriations for Henderson's Office of Price administration.

Henderson had asked for $210,000,000 to run the OPA during the current fiscal year. Cut to $161,000,000 by the budget bureau, the fund was whacked unmercifully to $75,000,000 by the house, then raised to $120,000,000 by the Senate Appropriations committee.

The senate committee, though, added amendments which made Henderson scream louder than he had at any of the cuts.

No Subsidy Payments.

First, it banned use of any of the funds for subsidy payments. Second, it provided that the president appoint, and the senate confirm, all OPA employes in the better than $4,500-a-year class. Third, it prevented price-fixing by the OPA on any commodity made in whole or in part from a farm product unless the price reflected 110 per cent of parity (the level at which crops enjoy the same purchasing power as in the 1909-1914 period).

The third amendment caused the loudest howls. Henderson said it would force repeal of the general price maximum regulations and he was backed up by Democratic Leader Barkley.

Rising prices, Henderson's supporters pointed out, would mean a higher cost of living. And a higher cost of living would prompt demands for general pay raises, and general pay raises would boost production costs, and prices would go up to meet them—and the inflation spiral would be under way.

At Home

The FBI's Hauls.

So America was wide open to German agents!

That was the comfortable theory Nazis once had. They believed that Americans were gullible, loose-tongued, careless about secrets.

The theory received its first severe jolt last year when a whole flock of Nazi agents found themselves squirming inside an FBI net. Recently the disillusionment of the Nazis heightened when the FBI snatched the eight saboteurs landed in Florida and Long Island.

From Washington came the story of how a Coast Guardsman, on patrol on Long Island, surprised the four saboteurs landed there as they came ashore carrying explosives. The 21-year-old service man ostensibly accepted a bribe, raced then to his station to give the alarm.

A search of the beach in the vicinity failed to turn up the four men but did locate sabotage materials buried in the sand. The FBI carred on the search, located the Long Island landing party and four others put ashore in Florida.

Meanwhile the FBI continued to haul in suspected dangerous friends of the Axis. Included in the catches:

Fourteen persons accused of assisting and sheltering the saboteurs.

An alleged Nazi spy, Herbert Karl Friedrich Bahr, who was arrested while entering the U. S. as a refugee aboard the diplomatic exchange liner Drottningholm.

A Dr. Wolgang Ebell of El Paso, who admitted he had furnished American military secrets to Germany and Japan.

Glendale Spiegelberg, who had on his person plans of the B-24 type bomber when arrested by the FBI in a Long Island bar Sunday.

* * *

Small—But Large!

The treasury had asked for a tax bill which would raise $8,700,000,000. The bill approved by the house ways and means committee called for an estimated $6,144,000,000.

But it was still far and away the largest ever approved and as clerks worked overtime to prepare it for presentation to the house, the American taxpayer tried to figure it out as it applied to his pocketbook.

He found that (1) instead of the 4% he paid this year on normal taxable income he would pay 6% under the new bill, and (2) that instead of 6% surtax on the first $2,000 of personal net income he would pay 13%—and on up to 81% if his net income exceeded $5,000,000. Joe American, the experts figured, would pay $2,958,000,000 in income taxes. And while he was paying it, the committee decided, 5% of his paycheck would be deducted toward 1944 payments.

* * *

Wheat Troubles.

In Kansas, farmers were moving the furniture out of spare rooms, filling them with wheat. In Vega, Tex., a hotel was pressed into service as a wheat storage elevator; a boarded-up schoolhouse in Hemphill county, Tex., also served.

The huge 1942 harvest, with last year's four-times-normal carryover of 630,000,000 bushels, had created what grain experts call the worst storage situation in history.

* * *

Hunters to Arms.

Big game hunters, says the U. S. Forest Service division of wild life management, shouldn't feel obliged, for patriotic reasons, to give up shooting deer and elk, because:

1. The war has cut deeply into imports of deer hides, often as many as 1,200,000 a year, from Thailand and South America, and many states are trying to arrange a market for American hides.

2. State and forestry officials in almost all parts of the west are apprehensive of the growing numbers of deer and elk, and urge continued hunting to preserve valuable range feed for livestock.

Abroad

Death on the Don.

Without oil the modern war machine stalls. Without food there has never been a war machine worth a nickel.

Germany, and her armies, need both food and oil, need them badly enough, it appears, to trade blood and manpower in untold quantities to get them.

Russia's Caucasus area has both—wells and refineries responsible for 82% of the Soviet oil supply, and in the north an agricultural area which supplies much of Russia's food.

Toward that doubly-rich goal, Hitler aimed the most powerful juggernaut he has been able to get moving since last summer. Once moving, he kept it rolling relentlessly, threw men by the thousands and planes and tanks by the hundreds into the crushing drive.

Russia's danger was increased by the strong possibility that she too might soon have to face a second front, in Siberia. Japan was said to have massed at least 360,000 men in Manchukuo with air reinforcements from home.

* * *

Battle of Supply Lines.

Biggest blows during the week in the battle of Egypt were struck, for the most part, outside the bottleneck battleground.

When Field Marshal Erwin Rommel holed up between the Mediterranean and the Qattara Depression at the end of his 350-mile headlong drive from Libya, his army was weary, his supplies were low, he was in no condition to press ahead.

Chief British concern seemed to be to keep him that way, to shut off possible reinforcements and supplies. Libyan ports were bombed without letup, the Mediterranean fleet steamed into action to knock out Matruh, most advanced Nazi base, and RAF fighters knocked down at least 12 huge Junkers transports believed carrying frontline specialists to Rommel.

On the battlefront, fresh, scrappy Australians set the pace in Allied ground movements which set Rommel 10 miles back on his heels, kept him there up to mid-week when he began to look dangerous again.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Something has gone out of the Broadway scene that meant a lot to bridge players. These were the trick hands and problems in contract bridge printed each week in the playbills of new shows. Almost always they were impossible hands, the solution of which lay only in the promiscuous sacrifice of Aces and Kings. They called for a sort of scorched earth policy which enabled, eventually, some insignificant trey to take the winning trick.

* * *

FOR a decade these hands were a feature in the playbills of all new dramas, revues, and comedies that hit the street. Sometimes their authors—ranking experts—offered books on bridge to the first half dozen who submitted the correct solutions. You could spot bridge addicts throughout the audience with their pencils, checking off finesses and organizing attacks.

For the first time since I can remember these hands have been omitted from the 1942 playbills. It is a sad omission. You see people thumbing hurriedly through the programs, a worried and apprehensive look on their faces that finally dissolves into baffled disappointment. You think this is an exaggeration? You don't know how seriously people take bridge around here.

* * *

HERE'S a little personal note that can bear telling, I suppose, without anyone raising objection. . . . In Tommy Dorsey's orchestra are 30 men and a girl. That makes 31 musicians. But on Tommy's payroll are 32 names. It's explained this way: Bunny Berigan's name remains on the payroll, though Bunny himself, that ace of hot trumpet players, is dead. His salary goes on just the same, to his widow and two kids.

Dorsey, by the way, travels so constantly that he plays solos to his pack of hounds, just so they won't forget him. Everytime he gets home he surrounds himself with yelping mutts and gives them something sweet on the old slide trombone. Now, when someone puts on one of Tommy's records, the pack goes crazy. They think the "Old Massa" is just around the corner.

Why Birds Fly North.

Bright lights and glandular oomph, says a University of California zoologist, cause the get-up-and-go spirit which sends birds winging northward in the spring. Dr. Albert Wolfson exposed Oregon juncos to long periods of artificial light this spring, noted these results:

Activity of pituitary and sex glands quickened, there were changes in the birds' physiques (an extra layer of fat appeared as a fuel reserve for long flight), and a complicated change in the nervous system produced the desire to travel.

The birds, which winter in California, took off months ahead of schedule for their northern homes.

In Short

Captured: By the Japanese, the southern Chekiang seaport of Wenchow. Chinese sources said the invaders had feared use of the city as an allied air or naval base.

Testified: WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson, before a senate agriculture subcommittee, that alcoholic sources will provide more rubber in 1943 than will be obtained from petroleum.

Died: Former President Robert M. Ortiz of Argentina, after an attack of bronchial pneumonia. Inactive for nearly two years because of ill health and near blindness, Ortiz had repeatedly urged closer relationship with the United States.

GALION SEEKS MORE ADEQUATE WATER SUPPLY

Council Authorizes Mayor to Option Farm Near City.:

GALION—To alleviate a possible water shortage in Galion, Mayor William Amann announced yesterday that city council had authorized him to take an option on a farm southwest of the city where it is thought there will be ample water from numerous springs. The purchase price as allowed by the council was $10,000.

Mayor Amann said the option had been taken Friday from the owners, Nora and Edward Hurley, to expire Oct. 15.

The city will start work on the site soon but the tract will not become the property of the city until after the expiration of the option.

It is anticipated that reservoirs can be developed on the farm to furnish water for the city, as the property has an abandoned stone quarry on it, and it is fed by numerous springs

On July 1 the water fund had a cash balance of $43,143, of which $14,000 was earmarked for the retirement of water works bonds. Mayor Amann said for this reason he does not anticipate a need for a bond issue to carry out the development.

Drilled wells in the vicinity have alleviated the critical water shortage which has faced Galion for the past several years. In all probability the well located on the Hirth farm east of Galion will be abandoned, since the city has not been able to obtain a clear title to the farm.

MOVES OFFICES

County Shifts Relief Quarters To North Diamond Street.

County relief administration offices will be moved Aug. 1 from 28 Orange street to the Adelphia hotel building at 55 North Diamond street, county commissioners announced today.

Commissioners said they had leased the Diamond street rooms from the J. A. Rigby Cigar company for one year at $75 a month, the same amount they have been paying for the Orange street headquarters.

The new quarters are more centrally located and much nearer the courthouse, commissioners said. The Orange street building has been used for relief headquarters for the past six and a half years.

ESCAPE INJURY IN ACCIDENTS

BUCYRUS — Passengers and drivers escaped injury in two autombile mishaps Friday.

In one accident a car driven by Mrs. Mary Kline, 541½ South Walnut street, was struck by a car driven by Mrs. H. J. Durr, 415 West Southern avenue as the Kline car pulled away from the curb in front of the courthouse, according to police records.

Cars belonging to William Rossman and Rebecca Dinkle, both of Tiro, were slightly damaged when the Rossman car struck the Dinkle car while it was parked in front of the Isaly Dairy store on East Warren street, police said.

H. ESTERLINE, 95, TAKEN BY DEATH

SHELBY—Henry Esterline, 95, lifelong resident of Crawford county and one of the oldest residents in Sulphur Springs, died Friday at his home after a short illness.

Survivors include three sons, James of Mansfield, Charles of Galion and Arthur of Ashland; a daughter, Mrs. Matilda Cooper of Sulphur Springs; a brother, Frank of Bucyrus, 14 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Dye Funeral home here. Burial will be made in the Myers cemetery, west of here.

COLLECTION STATIONS SET UP FOR LEGION'S RECORD DRIVE

Collection stations for old phonograph records in a campaign of members of McVey post, American Legion, to gather 22,000 records in a double-barreled defense project were announced today.

Frank R. Stahl, chairman of the Legion committee for the drive, said today that Mansfield residents could bring their contributions of records to any of the city's four fire stations and listed other points throughout the county for rural residents.

The campaign is being staged not only to obtain shellac, needed for military purposes, from old records, but also to purchase phonograph records and record players for use by soldiers serving overseas.

The government is using about 70 per cent of the nation's shellac supply and record manufacturers are helping to conduct the record salvage drive to help get supplies for their own use.

Civilian defense chairmen in the various townships will direct the collection of records. Stahl named the following collection points:

Bellville, postoffice and Legion hall; Shenandoah, Jenney's store; Lucas, Prichard hardware store; Olivesburg, general store; Pavonia, Hout-Pittenger store; Ontario, Henry's store; Mifflin township, Oak Park filling station; Plymouth, Black and Gold confectionery; Shiloh, Shaffer's grocery store; Adario, general store: Butler, Rexall drug store, and Lexington, Mobiloil filling station.

Stahl said that no profit would be made by any organization in the drive. The Legion will sell the records directly to record and record-player manufacturers and will purchase new records and players at cost price for use by overseas forces.

Nelson Steps In to Rush Synthetic Rubber Output

Takes Personal Command as Senate Sets Stage for Attempt to Strip Him of Control Over Program to Make War Material From Farm Produce.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson took personal command today of the program to speed up production of synthetic rubber as the stage was being set in the senate for an attempt to strip him of control over the manufacture of the vital material from farm produce.

As Nelson told newsmen that he was "not fully satisfied" with the progress of synthetic rubber to date and that he personally was taking a hand in speeding up production. Sen. Elmer Thomas (D.) of Oklahoma served notice he will act to bring up the Gillette bill at the earliest possible moment, probably when the senate reconvenes Tuesday.

The Gillette bill would set up a rubber supply agency to be headed by a director at $10,000 a year to control production of rubber from farm produce by first converting the produce into alcohol.

Nelson repeatedly has voiced opposition to the bill on the grounds it would divide responsibility over the rubber program, which he classed as the nation's "number one problem now."

The WPB chairman denied that his personal effort in the drive for rubber meant that Arthur B. Newhall and other subordinates in the WPB rubber division had been shorn of their responsibilities.

"The problem of producing rubber is so pressing that no matter how good a job you do, you've got to do better," Nelson said. "Naturally as a result of the tremendous pressure on the rubber situation of late, I have had to take a more active interest in the problem."

The Gillette bill has been endorsed by five members of an agriculture subcommittee which has conducted hearings in an attempt to find out why a $650,000,000 fund was used to develop plants for production of rubber only from petroleum.

Instructor Directs Popular All-Girl Orchestra.

More than a thousand Mansfield residents have studied the violin or some other string instrument under the tutelage of Will Kurtz, one of Mansfield's leading musical instructors, during the past 20 years.

There are few Mansfield families which do not have some relative who studied music with Kurtz and practically all of them thrilled to his music when they sat in Mansfield theaters in those days when silent motion pictures were "the thing."

And today, Kurtz still offers the finest of training for Mansfield youngsters anxious to be introduced to music.

Studied Music Here

Kurtz was born in Jeromesville and went to school at Lucas. When he finished high school, he came to Mansfield to study music under Professor Gordon Post of this city. When he was but 18, he accepted a position playing cello in an orchestra at Rome, N. Y. There he studied violin and cello under Professor Frederick Warmbling of New York City.

Returning to Mansfield, Kurtz played in downtown theaters at the same time continuing his study under Sol Marcosson of Cleveland, one of the nation's best-known concert violinists. With Marcosson, he studied harmony, composition and instrumentation.

In 1920, Kurtz decided to enter the professional music teaching field. He opened his studio at 59 Park avenue east to teach string and other orchestral instruments. He is still located at the Park avenue address.

Sees Swing Doomed

You may like your swing but Kurtz feels that it is doomed, especially the "brassy" part of it. He believes, along with several famous orchestra leaders, that popular music travels in a cycle, from the sweet to swing and then back to sweet again with maybe a dash of the blues.

Kurtz sees the string instrument as an indispensable part of the new sweet era popular music is starting to enter. He points to moves made by Harry James, Artie Shaw and other popular orchestra leaders to incorporate strings into their latest arrangements.

Will Kurtz, well-known Mansfield music teacher, has taught hundreds of Mansfield residents how to perform on string instruments. For the past six years, he has directed the Mansfield All-Girl orchestra which he organized. Shown above is the all-girl orchestra which has performed at numerous school and church functions throughout the city. Below, Will Kurtz has been playing stringed instruments for 30 years and has been teaching for the past 22 years. He is shown playing his violin at his studio at 59 Park avenue east.

"Back in the 20's, it was all brass," says Kurtz. "Then they added a banjo, changed the banjo to a guitar, added a bass fiddle, sweetened the saxophones and added clarinets and flutes. Now they're getting around to the violins again."

Kurtz also believes that the war will turn many people back to individual participation in music. Many persons studied music before World War 1, he says. Then the tempo got too fast, and they dropped out.

"It seemed so easy to twist a dial," said Kurtz.

But now people are staying home more, partly because of tire restrictions Kurtz feels they will turn to music as a hobby which they may enjoy even when they are bored with conversation, reading or just people.

Any persons wishing to take lessons in violin, cello, viola, string bass, or guitar, will find Kurtz at his Park avenue east studios which provide plenty of room for study and practice.

Directs All-Girl Orchestra

One of Kurtz's own hobbies is his Mansfield All-Girl orchestra. He first conceived the idea of a unit of this type back in 1924 long before Phil Spitalny seized the chance to organize his now-famous all-girl band. But Kurtz discarded the idea after he found it impossible to secure the desired combination of instruments.

In 1937, however, he selected a number of girl musicians and rehearsed them. So satisfying was the result that plans were made for a permanent organization.

His all-girl orchestra still exists and this fall will celebrate its seventh anniversary. Not only has the band delighted Mansfielders at numerous functions, it has added materially to the cultural life of the city.

On the average of 10 concerts are given each year in churches, high schools and for several civic programs.

Although the orchestra operates usually with about 27 members, it has fluctuated between 20 and 36 at times. Standard instrumentation has been maintained at all times, however.

The Canadian National is the only railway in North America which operates a ship building yard.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

GARDEN CLUBS HAVE MEETINGS FRIDAY

Astowela Group Hears About Herbs at Mrs. E. S. Weller's Home; Mrs. Earl Gaar Entertains Buckeye Garden Club.

TWO of the local garden clubs had meetings on Friday. Hostess to the Astowela Garden club was Mrs. Emerson S. Weller, 383 Overlook road. Mrs. Earl P. Gaar, 380 Shepard road, entertained members of the Buckeye Garden club. Luncheon was served at small tables to 18 members of the Astowela group. Assisting Mrs. Weller was Mrs. Ralph Walker.

For the Astowela club program, Mrs. P. J. Kelly gave an interesting talk on "Herbs and Herb Gardening." She illustrated her comments with a bouquet of herbs and showed plans and designs for herb gardens. Several of the members brought flowers which were taken to the Hill-Top Nursing home. The home of Mrs. A. L. Price, 196 Euclid avenue, will be the scene of the next meeting, which will be held at 12:45 p. m. on July 31. Mrs. A. R. Perl will be associate hostess.

Luncheon was served at noon to 13 members of the Buckeye Garden club. For the program, Miss Carolyn Wolf gave an interesting paper on "The Care of Cut Flowers." The "Garden Calendar" was in charge of Mrs. Adam Brandt. Discussion was held by the group regarding the Garden Center. On July 31, Mrs. Robert Frey will entertain the club at her home, 28 Park avenue west.

Auxiliary Makes Meeting Change, Hears Reports

The Women's Auxiliary to Local 711 held a wiener roast at Olivesburg roadside park recently. A business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Viola Anderson. She gave a talk on a conference held recently in Columbus of the women in war industry.

Mrs. Rosannah Williams, who attended the district council meeting held at the Y. W. C. A. last Sunday, gave a report of it. A letter from Washington entitled, "Washington News" was read by Mrs. Mildred Them. A report of the rummage sale held June 26 was also given. Mrs. Evelyn Davis joined as a new member.

The defense stamps for this month were won by Mrs. Evelyn Davis. The regular meetings were changed to the second Monday of each month. Next meeting will be August 10 at the hall with Mrs. Helen Metz and Mrs. Marjorie Esto as hostesses.

Picnic Planned For August 19

Red Cross first aid work was discussed when members of the Auxiliary to the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, No. 903, met at the home of Mrs. Howard Wells, Bowland road, Wednesday evening. Mrs. John Schneider was associate hostess. Guest for the evening was Mrs. Charles Glasgow.

When luncheon was served, the centerpiece for the table was an attractive arrangement of red, white and blue flowers. The next meeting will be in the form of a wiener roast on Aug. 19 at the home of Mrs. C. O. Lister, Ashland road. The husbands will be guests.

Gleaners Class Honors Hostess

Sixteen members of the Gleaners class of the First Christian church held a lawn picnic at the home of Mrs Claude Phipps, Hedges street. It was the annual picnic for the class. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phipps and daughter Roberta.

The members presented the hostess with a lovely gift in honor of her wedding anniversary. Luncheon was served buffet style from one large table decorated with garden flowers. The next meeting will be Sept. 18 at the home of Mrs. Eva Gable, South Main street road.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burkholder, 125 Rowland avenue, celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary yesterday. They have been residents of Mansfield since 1920 when they moved here from Wayne county.

Schedule of Events

SUNDAY

Student Music club—Last meeting of summer in form of a gathering at Middle park. Miss Mildred Hart will have charge of refreshments.

Wedding of Miss Maxine Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Bush, 119 Vennum avenue, and Pvt. Robert Lantz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lantz, 254 South Mulberry street. Ceremony will take place at 2:30 p. m. in open church service. St. Matthew's Lutheran church.

Child Study club—Family picnic at Prospect park at 4:30 p. m.

A Buckeye State Peach In Hollywood

JUANITA STARK—blue-eyed, bronze-haired Cleeveland girl—was a waitress drawing her last state unemployment service check when a talent scout noticed her, got her a screen test which resulted in a Warner long term contract. She will be seen next in support of James Cagney in "Yankee Doodle Dandy," story of the life of the theatrical genius, George M. Cohan.

Well I'll Be Switched, It's Back!

Jo Ann Sayers achieves turban effect with hair band.

By BETTY CLARKE
Wide World Beauty Editor

Remember the old-fashioned switch with which Grandma used to embellish her crowning glory?

Well, it's back in style again, only now they call it a "band-o-hair" and use it in new and ingenious ways.

If your hair dresser grew too enthusiastic about your new short haircut, you can cover the damage with an obliging hair-piece that exactly matches your own shorn locks and adapts itself to curls, buns or bangs with equal ease.

Added hair pieces can solve many of your problems. The day you go swimming, with no time to be prettied at the hairdresser's before you don your long skirt for the evening, all you do is pin on curls which look as if they grew from your own head. Presto, —no one can detect that your hair has been through the ravages of sun, water and sand.

There are dozens of ways to dress hair with a luxurious skein of hair, even if you're butter-fingered. It consists of two long bands of hair deftly joined together with a natural looking twist. Made with a bow-shaped smocked foundation, it fits snugly and securely even on the shortest hair. For a regal evening coiffure, you can wear it as a braided coronet or have a smart chignon effect by a simple twist at the nape of your neck.

Same girl, same hair, in braided oval Chignon.

PYTHIANS HAVE PICNIC.

Forty person attended the basket picnic at North Lake park for the Pythian Sisters and Knights of Pythias last evening. Bingo was played throughout the evening. Plans were made for another picnic the latter part of August. Next regular meeting for the Pythian Sisters will be Aug. 14 in the K. of P. hall.

* * *

PLAN FOR NEXT YEAR.

The executive board and committee chairmen of the Bowman School Mothers' club had a covered-dish dinner Friday at the home of Mrs. Fred Schnuerer, North Mulberry street. Plans for the coming year were discussed. Games and contests provided entertainment. The next meeting of the club will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 2.

Sugar beet tops and pulp are valued as cattle feed.

Farewell Party Friday Honors Kenneth Flick

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Wylie entained members of Boy Scout Troop 20 and their parents last evening at their home on Indiana avenue in honor of their son-in-law, Kenneth C. Flick, who will leave for army service Wednesday. Chicken dinner was served to 50 guests at tables arranged on the lawn. Decorations were attractive bouquets of garden flowers.

Rev. James Boyer, pastor of the United Brethren church, gave an appropriate talk and presented the guest of honor with a service Bible. The troop, of which Mr. Flick is Scoutmaster, gave a money belt as a farewell gift. George Snyder made the presentation. Ernest Chronister, assistant Scoutmaster and member of the Scout committee, presented Mr. Flick with stationery from that group.

Mr. and Mrs. Flick and their five-month-old son, Richard Kenneth, reside on Country Club drive.

ADD-A-COUPLE CLASS.

Add-a-Couple Sunday school class of the United Brethren church met last evening at John's park for a picnic. Twenty persons attended. The business meeting was conducted by vice-president, Ralph McClead. The committee in charge was Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doggett, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McClead and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Garn. Next meeting will be Aug. 14, place to be announced. The committee at that time will be Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Schenk, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clement and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Utz.

HOROSCOPE

FOR SUNDAY, JULY 19

Sunday's horoscope promises events of major and far-reaching importance both to the present and the future welfare and happiness. Sudden and breathtaking occurrences may be looked for, precipitating upheavals, disruptions, novel experiences and romantic adventures. But such dramatic and thrilling affairs are sustained by a factor making for stability, security and enduring good fortune.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of sudden and thrilling adventures and surprises. This may bring important change, uprooting, devastating moves, new experiences, and romantic attachments, all attended by assurance of enduring security, stability and sound fortunes or investments. But don't be led into extravagance or excess.

FOR MONDAY, JULY 20

Monday's astrological forecast is a rather disconcerting and confusing one, the outcome of which depends upon individual restraints, stability, sound ideas and objectives with properly directed energies. High tension, nerves, erratic and impulsive conduct are bound to defeat and nullify very promising conditions. Take small setbacks with calmness and be wise with all writings.

Those whose birthday it is may be able to turn some erratic and surprising situations into unexpected success and gain by rigid self control, sound tactics and plans, and refraining from emotional strain and excitement. There may be splendid promise in unusual lines of endeavor or through strange adventures, original creations or inventions, but in all affairs be careful in handling all writings and documents. Shun vexatious attitudes.

A child born on this day may be sensitive, high strung, nervous and perhaps irritable.

MIRIAM DURIG HONORED AT PRE-NUPTIAL PARTY

The Misses Mary Friday and Naomi Howell Give Miscellaneous Shower at the Former's Home Friday Evening.

HONORING Miss Miriam Durig, bride-elect of Robert C. Gundlach of Sandusky, the Misses Mary Friday and Naomi Howell entertained last evening at the former's home, 327 West Sixth street. Contests were the diversion of the evening. Recipients of prizes were the Misses Patricia Stuhldreher, Mary Alice Mitchell and Marjorie Wappner.

Before she was presented with miscellaneous gifts from the guests, Miss Durig was requested to do various "stunts" such as giving a demonstration of mending, and telling a recipe. Gift from the hostesses was a fireside table.

When luncheon was served there were blue and pink lace doilies with silver lettering at the individual places, announcing the names of the honoree and her fiance and the date on which they will be married. A lovely bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium was used as centerpiece for the table.

The marriage of Miss Durig and Mr. Gundlach will be solemnized in St. Peter's Catholic church at 9:30 a. m. on July 24.

Garfield Council Installs Officer

Regular meeting was held last evening at Eagles hall of the Lady Garfield Council, No. 24, Daughters of America. Mrs. Julia Grandstaff, councillor, presided over the business session. Mrs. Catherine Hannan, deputy, installed Mrs. Jane Taylor as associate vice-councillor.

The evening prize was drawn by Mrs. Taylor. The social committee for the next meeting, July 31, was appointed. They are as follows: Mrs. Arbie Kime, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Della Cochran, Mrs. Grandstaff and Mrs. Mary Altaffer.

MRS. SPANGLER IS HOSTESS.

Circle Six of the Central Methodist church had a picnic Thursday at the home of Mrs. Carl Spangler, Park avenue west road. Present were 19 members and five guests, the Misses Edith Stretch, Dorothy Burton, Mrs. Elizabeth Logan, Mrs. J. P. Willis and Mrs. Estella Forrest. Devotionals were by Mrs. Gilmore Hiett. Mrs. H. M Keene had charge of the contests and Bible quiz.

Mrs. Lawrence Is Speaker for Club Program

The fifth meeting of the Maids of Victory 4-H club was held at the home of the advisor, Mrs. Seif, on Thursday. The meeting was opened by all repeating the Lord's Prayer and the 4-H pledge. Members answered the roll call by telling what they have been doing during vacation.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Robert Lawrence, a former nurse, spoke to the club on "Personal Hygiene." A reading was given by Donna Clevenger and a duet was rendered by Betty and Lois Pollock. Dorothy Auker spoke on the topic "The 4-H Club Girl." Group singing was led by Virginia Queen.

The meeting was closed by the singing of "Star Spangled Banner." The business meeting was closed and recreation and refreshments followed. Refreshments were served by Norma Schindler, Mary Berry and Dorothy Foust.

Girls to Attend 4-H Club Camp

Future Homemakers 4-H club met recently at the home of Rita Parkinson, Olivesburg road. The meeting was opened with the 4-H pledge. Talks on antiseptics and dressings were given by Wanda and Barbara Garns.

Plans were completed for five girls to go to the camp at Hidden Hollow. They are Norma and Joyce Mitchell, Norma Tingley, Wanda and Barbara Garns. Guests present were Barbara Seigfield, Shelby, and Martha Smith. Luncheon was served and it was announced that the next meeting would be July 30 at the home of the advisor, Mrs. H. F. Tingley, Piper road, with the Garns girls as hostesses.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

Jack's rage against Ruth Hayes had not abated, but increased, when from his own story I was able to convince him that Ruth Hayes was responsible for having drugged his chocolate on his last night in camp, and for abstracting the key pages from the crytogram notes in which he had recorded the secret formula developed in the important experiments he was making, a formula vital to the country's defense.

And now Ruth Hayes herself stood before me, covertly appraising me with insolent eyes that yet held a touch of uneasiness.

Recalls Letter.

"I remember your name now," I said. Guessing the value of keeping her in suspense, I paused and did not at once speak again.

"I must tell you," I then went on, "that it holds most unpleasant associations for me."

Her bold face was suddenly Quilpish.

"I was afraid it might," she said.

"If I am not mistaken," I told her, ignoring her interpolation, "you once wrote a most insulting letter to Mrs. Bickett. You know that I am her husband's cousin and her dearest friend, so I am surprised that you have the temerity to ask an interview with me."

She did not change color, nor appear at all concerned at my indictment. When I had finished she threw back her head and laughed with apparently genuine mirth.

"I wonder if you know how amusing you are," she said, "you and your friend Katharine, with your antiquated notions of love and marriage.

"Hasn't it percolated through your mushy brains yet that if a woman can't hold a man she ought to give him up to the woman who can?"

I walked to the door and even opened it.

"I am sorry," I said, "but I must ask you to leave this apartment. I am exceedingly busy and I can give you no more time."

Even as I spoke I realized that my anger had run away with me, and that my father would wish me to find out just why Ruth Hayes had come to me. But I could not withdraw my ultimatum.

"You'll be sorry for this, you poor fool," she said threateningly. "I could tell you things about Jack."

"What could you possibly tell me about Jack that would be of any interest to me?" I queried icily, yet trying to convey a suggestion of curiosity.

"Jack is in South America," I went on, "Frankly, that is all I wish to know about him, and I hope he stays there."

"Giving Dr. Hal Meredith, the brilliant alienist, a clear field with his old sweetie," she said, with infinite malevolence in her voice. "For a Puritan moralist, Mrs. Graham, aren't you letting down on your theories a bit?"

She smiled viciously, but made no move to leave. Though my hands itched to take her by the shoulders and push her through the door, the thought of my father waiting in the next room to glean something from her talk kept me quiet.

"But you are letting down your Puritanism in another direction, Mrs. Graham," she went on. "Isn't there a commandment about telling lies? You know very well that Jack is in this country."

"You have proof of that assertion?" I said, and let the door slip as if by accident from my hand. I caught at it with purposeful awkwardness and it closed tightly.

Ruth Hayes once more gave her high, unpleasant laugh.

"Far better to leave it closed for a little while," she said, "And I have proofs—ample proofs—of your knowledge that Jack is in America."

MOONHOLLOW

CHAPTER V

Gordon's face grew hot; his collar was suddenly tight as the thought crept into his mind, like a snake—Audrey had married him only as a means of escape. She wanted someone to help her forget Clifford Morley.

Audrey continued. "This woman wasn't rich . . . or smart. Her name was Cora Leroy. She sang and danced in night-clubs. A 'hugger-mugger.' She clung to Clifford like a leech. I offered to buy her off. She laughed at me. Then she became dangerous!"

The words were coming slowly from Audrey's lips as she recounted the tale. Gordon listened eagerly, happy that she was unburdening herself, but sad that she did not blame Morley more.

Audrey poured herself a drink, then said, "Cora Leroy said she would shoot Clifford if I didn't give him a divorce."

Gordon watched her hand tremble. She gulped her drink, looked up at him, then out the French windows again toward the garden and Long Island Sound. "And she meant it! So I had to divorce Clifford to save his life. He is living in Denver now with her!"

She was close to the windows. The crosspieces cast a shadow on her—a shadow like a cross—and she was crucified, her voice was agonized; the wound in her heart was deep. It had been a long time since she had talked of Morley and Cora Leroy and her threat to kill him.

* * *

Her voice went on in a curiously flat tone. Cora had vented her spleen. She had visited her. Pleaded with her; then threatened. She had spouted a choice collection of verbal garbage; written poison pen letters.

"She wouldn't give up—and she didn't," said Audrey, "and I didn't want a murder on my conscience . . . Clifford's or hers."

"Well?" asked Gordon.

"You can see how I got sick of the sight and mention of her. I was jealous too and afraid for Cliff. I had a nervous breakdown in Reno."

"The female of the species," grunted Gordon.

"Female, my foot!" snapped Audrey. "I'd let a shameless baggage split and smash my life."

"And mine!" said Gordon.

"I didn't have to tell you all this. It wasn't any of your business, I hope you're satisfied."

Her voice was thin and high. Suddenly she thrust her face into her hands and began to sob. Gordon bent low, put his arms around her, facing her with his knees bent, balancing on his toes. She pushed him—sent him sprawling backward. She screamed at him, "Go away; keep your hands off me." Then she spun around and dashed out the panelled door, rushed upstairs. He heard a door slam behind her.

She had locked it too, he found out later when he knocked. Then came that chilly suggestion. "Go away!"

* * *

He sat in the darkness of his room, hot. He ripped off his necktie, doused his head with cold water; his temples beat numbly like wood beating on wood. He stared out the dark windows to the silvery world below him. A bird called sleepily. To the east, he heard the breakers on the sand calling, not "forever and ever," but "come away."

He leaned over his typewriter, inserted a page, rapped at the keys—folded the note, stuck it in the mirror, pulled on his hat and coat and slipped silently into the night, hurried across the garden paths to Mike's quarters, roused the sleeping stable-hand and drove with him to the station.

When the Long Island train ground to a halt at Pennsylvania Station, New York, Track Eleven, he was still gazing fixedly out the window—unblinking. A conductor tapped him on the shoulder. "We're at the station, sir."

Gordon rose slowly, wove his way out of the car. The conductor turned to a companion. "That fellow looks like he was knocked out and is walking around in his sleep."

He taxied to Ed Boden's London Arms apartment, and awoke that bald individual.

"Hell's bells," grumbled the heavy-set author's agent, blinking at Gordon "A fine blasted hour to blow into town. On a tear with the boys? What are you so mad about?"

Boden led him into the tiled kitchen, placed a bottle of Scotch on the table, poured himself a hooker into a half-glass of water and said, "Get some of that fuel oil into you. You look like you need it."

* * *

At Moonhollow a silver finger of light touched Audrey's forehead. She whispered, undistinguishable words in her sleep—turned and twisted, called a name and awoke at the sound of it. Her rich hair gleamed above her pink negligee as she walked slowly to the door of Gordon's suite.

She entered when she received no answer—saw the empty bed—turned on the light—saw the note—tore it open nervously, read it twice.

"Gordon is gone!" Audrey spoke loudly as though she were speaking to someone in the room. "I drove him away because of you. And I knew I would do it. Yes, I wanted him to go! Oh, I did. I really did!"

Was it because some wisp of fog had come between her and the sun or was it because there is no cure for a heart wounded with the sword of separation? Audrey flung herself on Gordon's bed and wept as though her body was wracked with pain.

* * *

While Audrey was reading his note, Gordon was staring glumly at his fourth drink. Ed Boden in purple bathrobe was at the gas range. The zestful tang of food made Gordon turn to the amateur chef. He was glad for the soft scrambled eggs and healthful whole wheat toast they ate.

Ed Boden knew what had happened. He didn't tell Gordon—just leaned on his left elbow, and focussed his grey eyes on Gordon's. He probed with little questions here and there—seemingly unimportant. When they had finished their second glass of beforebed milk, Boden knew about Morley and his Colorado gold mine, and Cora Leroy.

"Gordon, my bucko," he said. "I think you need some work. It'll get your mind fresh. Bunk inside on the couch. I'll get you a blanket. Sleep on your troubles, and tomorrow we can find an angle."

Gordon slept late—less trouble than on previous nights. He felt better after a stinging shower and a shave, and joined Boden over morning coffee.

"Man, you slept like a City Hall watchman. I've been up two hours. I got a job for you. The 'Review' is building up on Americanism and patriotism — local color in towns and industries—what they feel about the next war—about congress—about Pan Americanism. They'll take a few samples from you. There's a drawing account until they're sure. You can start this afternoon. There's a four o'clock plane."

"Okay," said Gordon. "Where do I go?"

Boden stared into Gordon's eyes and answered stiffly. "To Denver. But for anyone else who asks I'm going to say—London! And while you are studying Americanism find this guy Clifford Morley, tell me what he has that you haven't got. Let me have the low down on 'he-man, sex appeal'; next time I meet a girl, I might get somewhere with her."

Gordon spilled his coffee—sat back, studied Boden's chubby face, a face that broke into a slow, wise smile. Gordon reached his hand across the checkered cloth, palm up. Boden placed his hand in Gordon's, winced at the pressure.

"You're on," said Gordon, "and I'll bring back the whole dope—I'd like to get a good look at the kind of man a girl like Audrey can't forget."

"Don't miss any of the angles, Gordon. Now c'mon, I'll lend you a bag and razor and my other necktie."

* * *

Gordon packed, stopping occasionally to enjoy a full smile all to himself.

He left at three—stood at the door getting a final good-bye from Boden. "I forgot to ask you, why are you sending me to Denver?" Boden slipped a folded paper into his hand.

"Here's this week's 'Variety.' I looked up Denver for you. There's a name listed there—a name you mentioned in your sorrows last night." Gordon glanced at the list of entertainers and their cities for programs. Under Denver he saw "Gold Nugget Room, 2 weeks, dancer Cora Leroy."

"Thanks, Ed. That makes everything swell. All the missing characters."

Boden laughed, "Get going now. If you strike it rich and need help, call me—I'll run right out, and dig too!"

* * *

La Guardia field grew vague below him as the airliner climbed the unsteady air, pointed her blunt silvery nose westward.

The steady drone of her motors was soothing, even hypnotic as Gordon lolled in his comfortable seat, thinking of Audrey and himself, doodling with a pencil on a magazine cover, drawing her face, printing underneath it "Girl Lost" and changing that to "Girl Sick at Heart, Dr. Gordon Blake to operate."

"Break up her infatuation for her first husband? I've got to know what he's like first. Yes, Boden sent me on the right assignment." His face hardened with the thought of the bitter irony of his own situation. "I must cure her of him or cure myself of her."

He hoped that his disappearance would not be accepted as a final break, hoped that her faith in him would stay strong; hoped that she in some mysterious fashion would know that he had set out to do something for love of her.

The plane nosed downward toward the white hillocks of mountains that were like mounds of ice cream. The plane circled, bumped gently, rolled to a stop.

Gordon was first down the portable steps. "Denver, here I come. Morley and Leroy—watch out."

As he rolled along in a cab to the Denver House he was glad—glad to be there. No more groans and sighs. Here was a face-to-face job, with action. Gordon clenched his teeth.

"I wonder what the end will be," he thought to himself, "I wonder if what she thinks about him is true!"

The doorman of the Denver House interrupted that train of thought. Gordon registered as "Brad Lewis," and the bell-boy carried his bag to room 512, Gordon's headquarters for Denver.

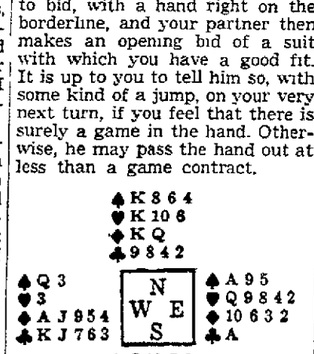
A TIME TO SHOUT

Just as there are times when you should keep your mouth shut, so there are also times to shout. One of these arrives after you have passed on your first chance to bid, with a hand right on the borderline, and your partner then makes an opening bid of a suit with which you have a good fit. It is up to you to tell him so, with some kind of a jump, on your very next turn, if you feel that there is surely a game in the hand. Otherwise, he may pass the hand out at less than a game contract.



(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1. Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	1 ♥	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	3 ♦
2. Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♥	Pass	3 ♣
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	4 ♣
Pass	5 ♦

In a rubber game, the bidding was exactly as shown in Table 1 above. Table 2 shows how it should have been. With that kind of action by East, after hearing his partner's opener, there is no chance of the hand being dropped below game. In addition, it makes certain that East gets an opportunity to show his major suit of hearts is at least five cards in length, so that if West has three the hand can be played in that suit.

When East bid only 1-Heart as first response to the opener, and later jumped from West's 2 Clubs to 3-Diamonds, West reckoned that East would have forced on the first round if his strength had been in primary honors, and that therefore he probably held something like five diamonds, about five hearts to the K-Q, perhaps a couple of indifferent spades and maybe the club Q plus another. If so, game was not in the deal.

As it turned out, the declarer made 5-Diamonds, losing only one trick in each red suit.

* * *

Your Week-End Lesson.

What is the most important reason a declarer can have for not taking out the opponents' trumps at once, aside from that of desiring to use the trumps of his own hand or dummy for early ruffing? Can you give an example illustrating the principle involved?

Sport Podge by REX HESS

Eddie the Mighty Man Mutryn, masterful manipulator of the mace with Mansfield's 1941 Braves, must be making his mashie shots over the garden wall as ever of old out there in dear old Wausau, Wis., in the Northern league this summer.

The home run king of last year's Ohio State league has just been named on the all-star Northern league team which will tangle with the league-leading Winnipeg club on July 20, come next Monday.

And since Eddie the Mighty Man is selected as an outfielder, Mansfield fans are prone to suspect that his mauling mace had something to do with his selection, since Ed is not the greatest outfielder in the world, albeit he is fleet of foot and his sturdy underpins will carry him under many a looping blooper for a sensational snatch.

* * *

In winning a berth on the Northern league all-star team, Eddie is getting into a habit which would be a mighty fine thing to carry right on up the ladder to the American league some day.

In two years of organized baseball, Mutryn has made the star selection in the Class D Ohio State, and the Class C Northern. However, an injury prevented his playing in the all-star game at Fremont last summer, although he made the trip.

* * *

"How would you like to go up in a swing,
Over the garden wall?"
That is what the old apple sings,
When Mutryn mauls the ball.

* * *

An echo of the weirdest play of last summer's Ohio State league season was seen recently in a Charleston-Dayton Mid-Atlantic game, and former OS-loopers had a big hand in it.

Charleston was the victim of a triple play which saved a 3-2 decision for Dayton. The bases were loaded when Ralph Weigel, former Tiffin catcher, sent a hopper through the infield. The ball bounced off the shortstop's chest toward second base, where Keystoner Bill Greer picked it up, stepped on second, and threw to former Fremonter Freddy Gerken on first for a double play.

Ex-Mansfielder Bob Ankrum, after starting a dash for the plate, tried to scramble back to third, and was tossed out by Gerken.

* * *

Last summer's weird play? It happened at Fremont, and Mansfield pulled it. With runners on first and second, the Fremont batter sent a low liner back to the box.

Pitcher Rudy Okleson snagged the ball at his shoetops, wheeled and threw the ball over second base out into center field where Bill Salem ran it down. Bill threw to Bob Ankrum at second for the double, and Ankrum relayed the ball to Harry Siegbert at first for a triple play.

Some triple play: Pitcher to centerfield to shortstop to first.

* * *

And Fremonters contend to this day that Okleson trapped the ball, instead of catching it on the fly. Privately, some of the old Braves think he did too. But that was Ohio State umpiring in the good old days.

* * *

Here's more about the old Mansfield Braves:

Bobby TeStruth, second baseman, one of the first of the Braves to join the army, is now seeing service in faraway Australia.

I'm indebted to Bill Reinka for Bobby's mailing address which is: Pvt. Robert M. TeStruth, Co. F, 127th Inf., A. S. N. 35047358, U. S. Army, A. P. O. 32, Care P. M., San Francisco, Calif.

Some of Bob's friends in Mansfield might want to write a letter.

HAEGG SETS NEW RECORD

STOCKHOLM — (U.P.) — Guner Haegg, Swedish runner, added another world standard to his already impressive total yesterday when he ran the 1,500 meters in 3 minutes, 45.8 seconds. The accepted standard for the distance is 3:47.8, set by Jack Lovelock of New Zealand on Aug. 6, 1936 in Germany.

BURGETT OPTIONED

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Dick Burgett, former football player at Ohio State university, has been optioned to Springfield of the Mid-Atlantic league by the Columbus Red Birds, who recently signed the collegiate star.

Yankee Hurlers Clicking

Turn on Pressure For Nearest Pennant Rivals.

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

THE New York Yankees are turning the thumbscrews on the rest of the American league again with four fine pitchers furnishing most of the pressure.

The world champions have won six games in a row and the last four of these were credited to Hank Borowy, Atley Donald, Ernie Bonham and Spud Chandler, who among them have won 34 games and lost only nine this season. Two of those last four games were shutouts and one was a one-run affair—the 8-1 triumph over the Cleveland Indians yesterday.

* * *

Chandler was the winner, his tenth victory against two defeats. He limited the Tribe to six hits and had the benefit of four double plays as the slick-fielding Yanks boosted their total of double killings to 119 in 86 games.

* * *

The game was decided in the first inning when Phil Rizzuto homered with the bases loaded. Joe DiMaggio singled in the seventh to extend his batting streak to 14 games.

Chester Laabs continued his sensational slugging at Philadelphia as the St. Louis Browns captured a doubleheader from the Athletics 4-2 and 11-1 to run their winning streak to eight games.

Laabs hit a homer with one on and a double in the first game and another home run with one on and a triple with two on in the nightcap. This gave him 17 home runs and 64 runs batted in to date. He has his seven homers and driven in 22 runs in the last week.

* * *

The Boston Red Sox nudged out the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 12 innings to keep from losing any additional ground to the Yanks.

* * *

The Brooklyn Dodgers piled onto the Chicago Cubs again for a 10-5 victory to take three of the four games in their rowdy series. Claude Passeau returned to the mound for the Cubs on one day's rest, and was belted out in the midst of a five-run fifth inning.

Brooklyn saved its top talent for the series opening today with the second-place St. Louis Cardinals and started Schoolboy Rowe, who didn't have a decision in the National league. He had to have help from Ed Head in the last two innings.

* * *

The Cardinals slaughtered the Philadelphia Phils 10-1 with Howard Krist pitching five-hit ball and his teammates making 13 safeties as well as taking advantage of four Philadelphia errors.

* * *

The New York Giants overwhelmed the Pittsburgh Pirates 11-2 with a 20-hit offensive.

In the first twilight game ever played in the nation's capital, the Washington Senators blanked the Detroit Tigers 3-0 as Buck Newsom limited his former mates to four hits.

Red Birds Drive To Overtake Blues

(By Associated Press)

The Columbus Red Birds, defending champions of the American Association, staggered around a long time in the lower regions of the standings this spring before hitting their stride. Now solidly up in second place, they're trailing Kansas City by only 2½ games.

They gained a game and a half on the Blues last night as Kansas City lost both ends of a doubleheader to the last-place St. Paul Saints. Columbus defeated Louisville, 2 to 0, on a one-hit pitching job by Red Munger. The only Colonel safety came with two out in the eighth inning when Pinch-Hitter Stan Sperry tapped a twisting blow in front of the plate.

The Blues' double collapse was by scores of 11 to 0 and 3 to 1.

The Toledo Mud Hens climbed past Indianapolis into sixth place by beating the tribe, 9 to 6. Milwaukee trimmed Minneapolis, 11 to 8.

Perfect Game Spoiled In 9th

(Wide World Features)

SEATTLE —The University of Washington baseball team was playing its old foe—Washington State at Pullman.

It was the last of the ninth. Doug Ford, 215-pound sophomore hurler, was on the mound for Washington.

He hadn't allowed a single hit up to that point.

He got the first man. The second also went out. Just one more putout and Ford would have a perfect no-hit, no-run game.

The third man hit an infield roller. There was plenty of time, but the first sacker was pulled off the bag. Before the uprising could be quelled, Washington State scored two runs to tie the score, then went into the tenth inning to win, 3-2.

Ford can tell you that coming close just doesn't count.

CHARLESTON KEEPS LEAD OVER ERIE

ZANESVILLE — Erie, batting to overtake first-place Charleston, stemmed a Zanesville ninth-inning rally and defeated the Cubs 4 to 3 in the Mid-Atlantic league last night.

Charleston got four runs in the ninth inning to edge Dayton 4 to 3. Canton decisioned Springfield 7 to 4.

Tribe Battles For 2nd Spot

Tries to Forget Sad New York Adventure.

BOSTON —(AP)— The Cleveland Indians tried today to keep their minds on the fact they are three games behind the second place Red Sox and are entering a three-game series here.

By concentrating on the attempt to catch up with the Bostons, they may be able to dim the memory of taking three straight beatings from the Yankees, the last of which was administered yesterday to the tune of 8 to 1. The up and coming St. Louis Browns, meanwhile, pulled to within three and one-half games of Cleveland.

* * *

The Yankees made Al Smith the loser of yesterday's fray in the first inning. Errors by Ken Keltner and Smith helped fill the bases. Phil Rizzuto smacked a home run and New York was off to a four-run lead.

* * *

Rizzuto also accounted for a triple, and took part in four New York double plays.

Chandler held the Indians to six hits, two of them by Keltner, who doubled in the fourth and finished the circuit on infield outs by Jeff Heath and Les Fleming, for Cleveland's lone run.

Jim Bagby, who has won and lost four, takes on the Red Sox today.

List 16 Colts For Futurity

Largest Field to Race For Arlington Purse.

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—Sixteen colts go to the post in the $20,000 added Arlington Futurity today competing for a leg of the two-year-olds' racing championship.

The field equals the largest ever to go to the barrier in this blue ribbon event for juveniles. Sixteen starters also were in the field for the 1928 running of the stake over the six-furlong route.

* * *

If there are no late scratches the stake will have a gross value of $64,400 of which approximately $53,000 will go to the winner. The Futurity is the west's richest two-year-old stake.

* * *

There isn't a clear favorite in the entry list. The bettor's choice, however, probably will come from a trio composed of John Hay Whitney's Picket; Amber Light of the Dixiana farm and Valdina Sol, owned by Emerson F. Woodward's Valdina Farm.

Leaders to Clash In Shelby League

SHELBY — Featured game of next week's Shelby softball league schedule will bring two undefeated teams together on Wednesday night at the water company field.

The Salesbook company and Ohio Seamless Tube company who are tied for the first place in the second round of the league, will meet in the game. Both teams have won two games and lost none.

Other games scheduled next week include: Monday night, Autocall company 1 vs. High School; and Tuesday night, Provident company vs. Autocall company 2.

HOLD BENEFIT MEET

HAMILTON —(AP)— Today is Army and Navy Relief day at the local running race meeting, and Racing Secretary Fred Burton said that in addition to paying purses for the nine event program and salaries in war bonds and stamps, the Ohio Sports Enterprises, Inc., operator, would make an outright contribution of $3,000 to the fund.

Brothers Click In Net Play

The Falkenburg brothers of Hollywood, Tom, left, and Bobby, are really clicking in junior tennis play. Brothers of Screen Actress Jinx Falkenburg, the boys have added the eastern junior doubles tennis title to their previous national interscholastic victory. Bobby, the better of the two players, won the eastern junior singles and a week ago won the U. S. interscholastic tennis title. The Falkenburgs are shown in action in New York.

PHILADELPHIA—(Wide World) — The Brownies' Chet Laabs, who's the hottest hitter in baseball right now, is the same guy Mickey Cochrane once said would never make a big-leaguer. . . . Well, Mike, five homers in four games ain't rolling into double plays.

* * *

HOSS-PLAYER HEAVEN.

Out at Hamilton, O., the county poor-house overlooks the half-mile race track. . . . Nothing like having all the conveniences—and the shortest walk. . . . The new Garden State park opens a 49-day race meeting across the river in Camden (N. J.) today. . . . The operators wanted to run only 25 days the first time out, but the state had already written into the budget a tentative $1,000,000 expected revenue from racing this year. . . . So the boys decided that since they have the only track in the state they'd have to double the meeting to get the million.

STEVE GROMEK SENT TO BALTIMORE ORIOLES

CLEVELAND — (U.P.) — The Cleveland Indians today sent Pitcher Steve Gromek, former Mansfield Brave, to Baltimore of the International league on a 24-hour optional recall basis. Gromek will report to the Baltimore club Sunday.

VOLUNTEER

NEW HAMPTON, N. H.—(U.P.)—Members of the local ARP demolition squad were prepared to warn the public away from a simulated bomb during a test air raid, but they did not count on a skunk's assistance.

The animal not only kept curious persons at a safe distance from the "bomb," but even forced the guarding group to retreat from their posts.

REDS GIVE RELEASE TO ROLLIE HEMSLEY

CINCINNATI —(U.P.)— Rollie Hemsley, once one of the major league's top catchers, was job hunting today.

Hemsley was released unconditionally by the Cincinnati Reds last night. He appeared in only 36 of 81 games the club has played and made only 13 hits in 115 times at bat for an average of .113.

Al Lakeman has been recalled from the Syracuse of the International league club to replace him.

Texans Open Ryder Match

Hogan and Demaret Tee Off First In Foursomes.

DETROIT —(U.P.)— Two native sons of Texas, Little Benny Hogan and Handsome Jimmy Demaret, tee off today in the No. 1 position for the Ryder cup team in the first day's four-ball foursome competition against a team of challengers led by Walter Hagen.

The Hogan-Demaret tandem oppose Lawson Little, former national open and amateur champion, and Lighthorse Harry Cooper, on the Oakland Hills Country club course.

* * *

Five foursome matches will be played over the 36-hole route, with one point at stake in each of them. Pairings for the second phase of this competition between golf's greatest money players for the Red Cross War Relief matches—the singles matches on Sunday—will be announced later today.

* * *

Other pairings included: Byron Nelson and Ed Dudley of the Ryder team against Henry Picard and Sam Byrd; Gene Sarazen and Lloyd Mangrum of Wood's team against Clayton Heafner and Sgt. Jim Turnesa; Capt. Craig Wood and Sgt. Viv Ghezzi, 1941 PGA champion, against Ralph Guldahl and Dick Metz of the challengers; and Horton Smith and Jug McSpaden of the Ryder squad against Jimmy Thomson and Al Watrous, veteran pro.

Hagen has withdrawn from competition here because of the critical illness of his father, William Hagen, at Rochester, Ill.

SCHROEDER ADVANCES

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Semi-final matches in the Eastern Men's Clay Court tennis championships today pitted top-seeded Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Cal., against Alejo Russell of Argentina and Francisco Segura of Ecuador, against George Richards of Los Angeles.

Texans Open Ryder Match

Hogan and Demaret Tee Off First In Foursomes.

DETROIT —(U.P.)— Two native sons of Texas, Little Benny Hogan and Handsome Jimmy Demaret, tee off today in the No. 1 position for the Ryder cup team in the first day's four-ball foursome competition against a team of challengers led by Walter Hagen.

The Hogan-Demaret tandem oppose Lawson Little, former national open and amateur champion, and Lighthorse Harry Cooper, on the Oakland Hills Country club course.

* * *

Five foursome matches will be played over the 36-hole route, with one point at stake in each of them. Pairings for the second phase of this competition between golf's greatest money players for the Red Cross War Relief matches—the singles matches on Sunday—will be announced later today.

* * *

Other pairings included: Byron Nelson and Ed Dudley of the Ryder team against Henry Picard and Sam Byrd; Gene Sarazen and Lloyd Mangrum of Wood's team against Clayton Heafner and Sgt. Jim Turnesa; Capt. Craig Wood and Sgt. Viv Ghezzi, 1941 PGA champion, against Ralph Guldahl and Dick Metz of the challengers; and Horton Smith and Jug McSpaden of the Ryder squad against Jimmy Thomson and Al Watrous, veteran pro.

Hagen has withdrawn from competition here because of the critical illness of his father, William Hagen, at Rochester, Ill.

SCHROEDER ADVANCES

Galion Wins Wild Game From Travelers

Each Team Scores Five Runs In First Inning At Fairground

Maybe it was the heat, but neither the Mansfield Travelers nor the Galion Jaycees were so hot, from a diamond standpoint, at the beginning of their twilight baseball tilt at the Fairground last evening.

But the Jaycees became acclimated to the temperature first, and from then on set the tempo of the abbreviated contest to punch out an 11 to 6 victory over the Travelers.

Each team scored five runs in the first inning, and the "crowd" (figure of speech) began wagering freely that the game would not reach four frames before darkness descended.

* * *

But after that first inning it was a pretty fair ball game, and speeded right along for seven stanzas, before the gathering shadows shrouded the hurlers' offerings in an aura of mystery missing at the beginning of the pastime.

* * *

Here are the awful details of that hair-raising first inning.

For Galion, Schaffer, leading off, got a life when Patterson's throw from first was wide. Lamb immediately blasted a triple to left center and one run was in. Ernst got a single, and the second marker was across the platter. Ernst went to second on a passed ball, and to third on Burgraf's single. Burgraf stole second. Ernst scored on Goldsmith's infield out. Noblet fanned. Schumacher lashed out a double to center, scoring Burgraf. Garverick was safe on Jim Musille's error, and Schumacher scored. Hughs ended the misery by fanning. He was the ninth man to bat.

But the Travelers hadn't had their bats yet. Jim Musille and Hamman drew passes to start it. Willard Lockhart got a single and the sacks were loaded. Patterson was hit by a pitched ball, and one run was in. Peanuts Musille drew a walk, and another run counted. Bogantz fanned. Hamilton was safe on a fielder's choice and another run counted. Smith singled and Martin walked. The Travelers had batted around with only one out and five runs in. But it ended on a double play as Jim Musille's bounder to the box was tossed back to the plate and then to first.

* * *

Galion continued the fun with four runs in the second on triples by Ernst and Noblet, a double by Schaffer, a single by Burgraf, and an error.

* * *

And the Travelers came back with one run in their half of the second on a long home run to deep center by Willard Lockhart. That was all for the Travelers.

Galion added a run in the fourth on Ernst's second triple and an infield out, and got another in the seventh on successive singles by Hughs, Schaffer and Lamb after two were out.

There wasn't much of a crowd on hand, but it would have been enough to meet expenses but for the fact that a bunch of kids, posing as ball chasers, chased the foul balls right on down town.

Janet Shock Wins Crown

Dayton Girl Dethrones Defending Champ.

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Petite Janet Shock of Dayton, who knocked off Ohio's feminine golf throne twice in the last four years, was right back up there today.

The freckle-faced, 23-year-old blue-eyed blond, winning her third title, defeated defending champion Neoma Copic of Toledo in the 36-hole finals of the 23rd annual tournament yesterday by a 3 and 2 score.

* * *

Miss Shock had three birdies, 21 pars, nine bogies, and skidded two over par once, to finish the 34 holes eight over even figures.

* * *

Three-putt greens spelled ruin for the defending champion, for Miss Copic had five of them on the final 18 holes as she went through the match in 13 over par with three birdies, 17 pars, a dozen bogies, and two holes on which she slipped over by two strokes.

Miss Copic is the only feminine star ever to win both the state public links and state women's championships. She copped the "pay-as-you-play" laurels in 1939, shifted to the private club field the following year, and won the title a year ago in a 39-hole match with the former Dorothy Gardner of Steubenville.

Champ Defends State Golf Title

CINCINNATI—(AP)—The Ohio amateur golf championship either goes back to Toledo for another year in Frank Stranahan's loving care, or it comes here to a night man helping guard a war plant.

Frank, who won the title on the 38th hole last year against Cincinnati's Maurice McCarthy, jr., and Elmer Tunker, a fellow of 28 who must not have to sleep, are the finalists in today's 36-hole wind-up of the five-day tournament.

Both roared from behind in the afternoon round yesterday to down contenders Doug Hill and Bob Myers, both of Cincinnati. Stranahan's margin was 3 to 1 and Tunker's one up.

Hill, a veteran of the first World War, got along all right on head work for the first 18, but Stranahan finally got his driving range and won going away.

All Stars Add 2 More Players

Lineup of the Mansfield All-Stars, who meet the state champion Toledo Old Dutch Beers tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at Liberty park, was further strengthened last evening when Manager John Villella added Pat Patterson and Bill Bogantz to the softball squad.

* * *

Villella obtained the temporary release of Patterson and Bogantz from the Mansfield Travelers baseball club, who will be playing Shellmar Products at Mt. Vernon.

* * *

Mansfield Provident Loan girls also will be playing at home at North Lake park tomorrow afternoon, but in order not to interfere with the Liberty park attraction, they will start their game with Cuyahoga Falls a 4 o'clock.

HIESTAND ENLISTS

HILLSBORO —(AP)— Joe Hiestandw, one of the country's top-ranking trapshooters, says he expects to receive a commission as as an army gunnery instructor. He won the North American clay target championship last year and plans to compete in the Grand American at Vandalia, O., this year.

FUNERAL SET

CINCINNATI —(INS)— Funeral arrangements were being made today for John Melvin Doherty, 46, assistant football coach at Xavier university, following his unexpected death yesterday.

'NOT SO GOOD'

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Tris Speaker "isn't any too good" at Lakeside hospital, attendants reported today, although he showed improvement in the middle of the week. He is still on the danger list.

"Woods and Waters"

By YUNCKER BROS.

A little known characteristic of deer is the fact that there are scent glands on the inside of their hind legs. They are about 3 inches long on the black tail, 1 inch on the white tail, and about 4 inches long on the mule deer.

* * *

No one, it is claimed, has ever seen a new born tarpon. This great game fish is hatched at sea in a larval state, a translucent inch long ribbon with tiny eye spots, then drifts into inland lagoons to grow. And grow it does—at the end of the first year it is a foot long.

If you're lucky enough to own a good pair of fishing boots, here are 4 rules from a leading manufacturer, to make them last longer. 1. Put them on and take them off carefully. 2. Wash outer surfaces after use. Oils, greases, etc. are injurious to rubber. 3. Turn boots inside out to dry linings in room temperature. 4. Store in cool, dry, dark place. Don't fold or crush—hang them up by the heels.

Many women prefer the dressier, trim-looking jodhpurs to slacks for hiking, camping and many other outdor activities. Especially the kind she will find at Yuncker's, with slenderizing wide belt, that are available

PRATT, Kas. —(AP)— Guy Josserand says the catfish at the Pratt fish hatchery have learned to recognize the sound of the truck which brings their feed once a day. Whenever it drives up the fish swarm to the feeding spots. The other day Josserand said workmen swapped trucks and not a fingerling was on hand when the feeder reached the banks of the ponds—the fish failed to recognize the new truck.

LIGHT STOCK DEALS SWING PRICES LOWER

First Half Retail Trade In 1942 Exceeds Year Ago By Eleven Per Cent.

NEW YORK—Price swings were small but generally lower in today's stock market.

Fractional losers included Union Pacific, N. Y. Central, Loew's American Telephone, U. S. Steel and Public Service of N. J. Modest advances were posted for Bethlehem and Texas company.

Those watching merchandising share trends noted the compilation of the federal reserve bank of New York placing inventories of department stores in this district as of June 30 at 80 per cent above the same time last year. For June store sales in the metropolitan area were 3 per cent under the like 1941 month but for the first half of 1942 they topped the comparable period a year ago by 11 per cent.

Holders of rails found some encouragement in the summary of the Association of American Railroads estimated operating revenues for 88 class 1 carriers last month amounted to $479,227,572 against $370,863,416 in June of the previous year, or an increase of 34.1 per cent.

GIVES SELF UP

Californian Admits Slaying of Girl Graduate.

SAN LEANDRO, Calif.—(INS)—Alameda county authorities today held Leslie B. Gireth, 37, of Glendale, Calif., for the auto court love nest slaying Wednesday of Miss Dorena Hammer, 21, ravishing blond San Jose State Teachers' college graduate with whom he had registered as man and wife.

The wealthy Southern Californian, a jeweler, surrendered yesterday in Fresno after a call to Alameda county authorities in which he divulged the slaying and told them he would await arrest.

He had recently been divorced from his wife who charged he had a temper. The pretty girl was found shot through the head in the luxurious cabin lying in bed, clothed in an expensive pair of green pajamas.

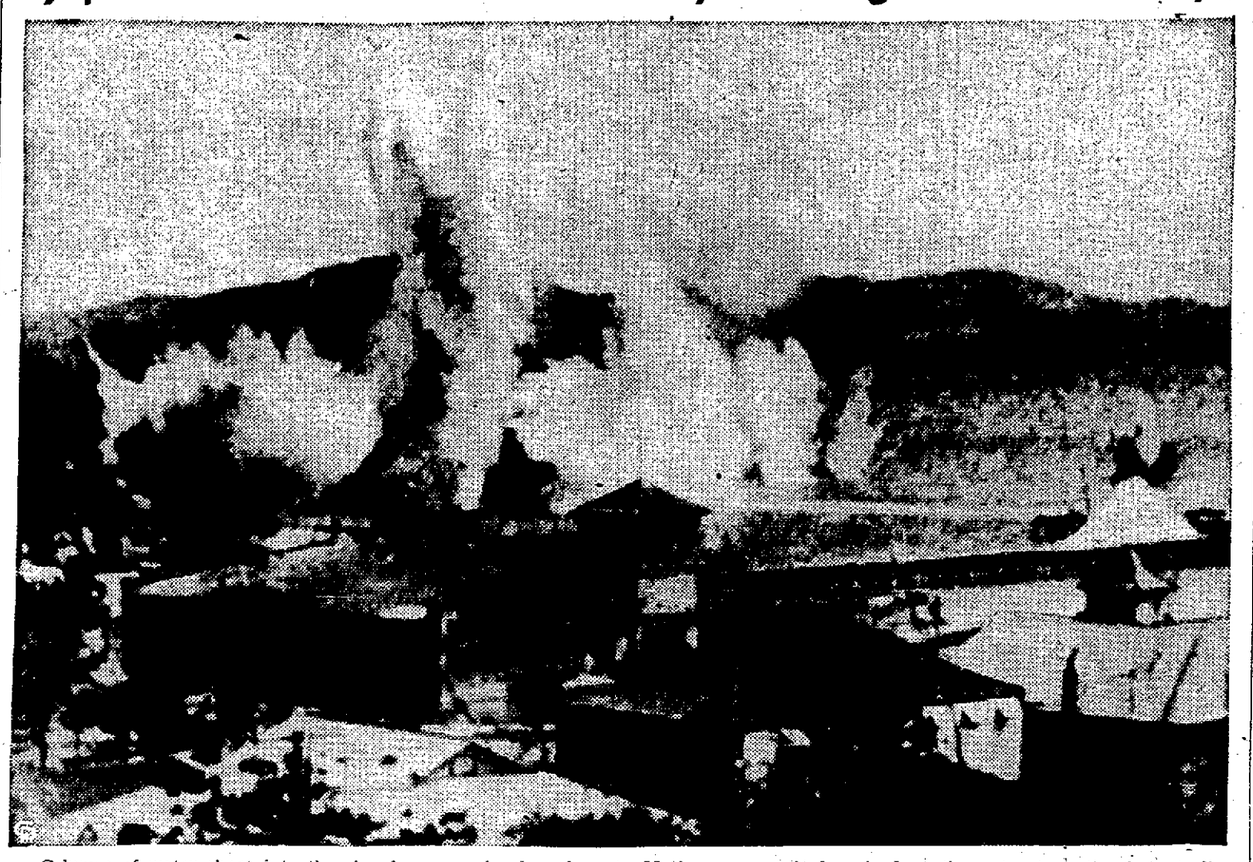
Jap Bombers Attack Allied Convoy Arriving In Port Moresby



Columns of water shoot into the air, above, nearly obscuring the ship, as near misses are scored by Japanese bombers during a heavy raid on Port Moresby, New Guinea, just after a United Nations convoy had arrived at the outpost north of Australia with troops and supplies. Jap bombing raids on this base have become less frequent.

THEATERS

Sea Saga.

"Reap the Wild Wind," the Cecil B. DeMille saga of the sea showing at the Ohio, tells its gusty story against a broad and gaudy background. Every scene, whether it deals with high jinks in an 1840 Charleston saloon or an underwater struggle between a man and a giant squid, is charged with DeMille theatrics. Shipwrecks and hurricanes are a part of the plot that deals with America's effort to keep the sea lanes free of pirate salvagers along the Florida keys. Ray Milland and John Wayne portray the heroes, Paulette Goddard, the girl, and Raymond Massey, chief of the wreckers. The picture is filmed in technicolor.

* * *

Speakeasy Drama.

George Raft plays a real-life role in "Broadway," the Madison attraction, that covers a 48-hour span backstage in a Broadway night club. Raft portrays an ambitious hoofer whose big chance comes at a time when he is innocently involved in a killing. Pat O'Brien is co-starred with Raft and the cast includes Janet Blair, Broderic Crawford and Marjorie Rambeau. At least a dozen musical numbers that were hits along Broadway 15 and 20 years ago are featured in the picture. The Dead End Kids are featured in "Tough As They Come," the second picture.

* * *

Technicolor Thriller.

Kipling's "Jungle Book" comes to life in Alexander Korda's production by the same name at the Park. Filmed in technicolor the picture presents one spectacular sequence after another as East Indian dream cities and colorful jungle animals and birdlife pass in review. Sabu, the famous young Indian star, impersonates the Kiplingesque hero, a creature that was half boy, half wolf, and lived in the jungle until he was 12 years old. Patricia O'Rouke and Rosemary De Camp play the feminine leads. "Three Cockeyed Sailors," is the co-attraction.

* * *

Family Story.

Andy Hardy comes to the aid of his father, Judge Hardy, in changing a wallflower into a sparkling young lady in "The Courtship of Andy Hardy," the Ritz attraction. Mickey Rooney again plays the role of Andy and the cast includes Donna Reed, Cecilia Parker, Sara Haden and Ann Rutherford. "Romance on the Range," Roy Rogers' picture, is a fast-moving western with Rogers in the role of a cowboy out to avenge the death of a pal. Linda Hayes is in the cast.

EMIL EICHACKER FUNERAL TODAY

Rites Held Today for Victim of Industrial Accident.

Funeral services for Emil Eichacker, 59, of Fifth avenue, who died yesterday at General hospital of complications resulting from injuries received two weeks ago when caught in machinery at the Hughes-Keenan company, were to be held at 3:30 p. m. today at the Wappner funeral home.

Services will be conducted by Rev. Paul H. Safeste, pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Emma Kunkel of Mansfield; Mrs. Nellie King of Jacksonville, Fla.; Miss Lena J. Eichacker of Boulder City, Nev.; and Mrs. Luther Hahn, a missionary stationed in India, now en route home; and a brother, Charles of Denver.

PAYMASTER ROBBED

CINCINNATI —(AP)— J. Thorpe Ranshaw, paymaster at the Stacey Manufacturing company, was robbed of a $5,000 pay roll by two men.

KILLED IN DERAILMENT

FINDLAY—(INS)—Sam Wilson, 55, of Findlay, was killed and seven others injured when a section workers' car of the Nickel Plate railroad was derailed near McComb.

Brett Decorates Nine U. S. Airmen With Silver Star

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA—(INS)—Nine officers of the American air service and the medical corps were decorated today with the Silver Star by Lieut. Gen. George H. Brett, commander-in-chief of Allied air forces in the southwest Pacific. One award was made posthumously.

Those cited for galantry in action included Capt. Jack Dale of Cleveland, Ohio.

Capt. Dale led a flight of fighter planes escorting bombers in an attack on Japanese transports and warships off Bali on Feb. 25. A large force of Japanese fighters attempted to intercept the American squadron, but Capt. Dale threw his squadron against them and personally destroyed two enemy aircraft. Because of his skill and daring, the entire American force returned safely to its base after successfully completing its mission.

BONDS GO FAST ON SECOND DAY

Heroes' Day Observance Friday Nets $15,000; First Hour Today Brings $1,000.

astic about the response to the drive by Mansfield residents.

Ray Calene, chairman of the Retail Merchants association committee which is sponsoring the sales drive, said that several merchants had sold $1,000 bonds and that scores of bonds of $500, $100, $50 and $25 denominations had been sold.

The exact figure for yesterday's sales was $15,410.25. Calene and other directors of the drive were anticipating a sale of more than $20,000 worth of bonds and stamps today.

Postmaster Herman Homberger reported that postoffice bond and stamp sales spurted yesterday as Mansfielders bought them in observance of American Heroes day. Bond sales yesterday were $1,575 while stamp sales amounted to $3,540.

Total postoffice sales for the week were: bonds, $5,212.50 and stamps, $6,035. American Heroes day stamp sales accounted for more than half of the week's total.

Several merchants sold out their supplies of bonds and stamps more than once yesterday, according to Calene, and had to go back to headquarters to replenish their supply.

The sound truck used yesterday to broadcast sales was silent the early part of today while volunteers helped to tabulate the rush of bond and stamp sales for their first Saturday report.

TILLIE THE TOILER

MAC, YOU SHOULD SEE THE WAY MY SWEET CORN IS COMING ALONG
I'LL BET ITS NO BETTER THAN MINE
7/3
AND MY CUCUMBERS YOU CAN ALMOST SEE THEM GROW
OH, YOU'VE GOT VEGE-TABLES ON THE BRAIN
HYA, TILLIE - YOU TOO, MELON-PUSS
HYA, CAR-ROT TOP
WHAT MANNERS
I GUESS THERE ARE OTHERS WHO HAVE VEGETABLES ON THE BRAIN BESIDE ME
RUSS
MAY I CUT IN?
OH, HELLO, TOBY
TOBY, I'M SO WORRIED ABOUT THIS AWFUL DRY WEATHER
YES, NO RAIN FOR DAYS NOW
JUST THINK WHAT IT WILL DO TO MY GARDEN
YES, IT WOULD BE A SHAME FOR ALL YOUR GARDEN PLANTS TO WITHER IN THE HEAT
7/14
I GUESS THEY CAN STAND THE WITHERING HEAT IF MISS PEARL DOESN'T GIVE THEM ANY OF HER WITHERING GLANCES
RUSS CRYSTOVER
TILLIE, I'LL TEACH YOU HOW TO BEAT THE DROUGHT IF IT ISN'T TOO BAD
FINE, TOBY WE'LL SAVE THE GARDEN IF WE CAN EEEEK
CRACK
7/15
ARE YOU HURT, TILLIE?
OH, TOBY- SNIFF SNIFF
GOSH, IT'S SOME STRAY BULLETS
OH, IS THAT ALL - I THOUGHT SURE THERE WAS A HAIL STORM AND MY VICTORY GARDEN WOULD BE RUINED
RUSS CRYSTOVER
LET'S GO OUTSIDE AND TALK WHERE ALL THESE PEOPLE CAN'T HEAR US
SURE, TOBY
I'LL BET YOU KNOW ALL THE PLANTS THERE ARE AROUND HERE
SURE, I KNOW 'EM ALL - I'VE STUDIED 'EM
OWTCH!
SO YOU KNOW ALL THE PLANTS, DO YOU?
SURE I DO! THAT'S ONE OF THE GENUS URTICA - IN PLAIN ENGLISH, A NETTLE
RUSS CRYSTOVER
WE'LL ALWAYS BE FRIENDS, TOBY, AND I WISH YOU GREAT HAPPINESS
THAT'S SWEET OF YOU, TILLIE
AND I'LL ALWAYS REMEMBER THAT IT WAS IN YOUR VICTORY GARDEN THAT I FIRST MET MY DREAM GIRL AND MAYBE YOU'LL ALWAYS REMEMBER THAT IT WAS HERE THAT MAC FIRST MET HER 7-17
RUSS CRYSTOVER
MAC DOES SEEM INTERESTED
BUT AS FOR HER, SHE'S JUST TRYING TO MAKE ME JEALOUS
I'D LIKE TO GRAB THAT MUGG BY THE SCRUFF OF THE NECK AND THROW HIM OUT
TOBY, YOU'RE SWINGING ME AROUND AS IF YOU'RE TRYING TO THROW ME OUT OF THE PLACE
7/18
MAYBE SHE WAS TRYING TO MAKE YOU JEALOUS BUT SHE ISN'T NOW - SHE'S SUCCEEDING

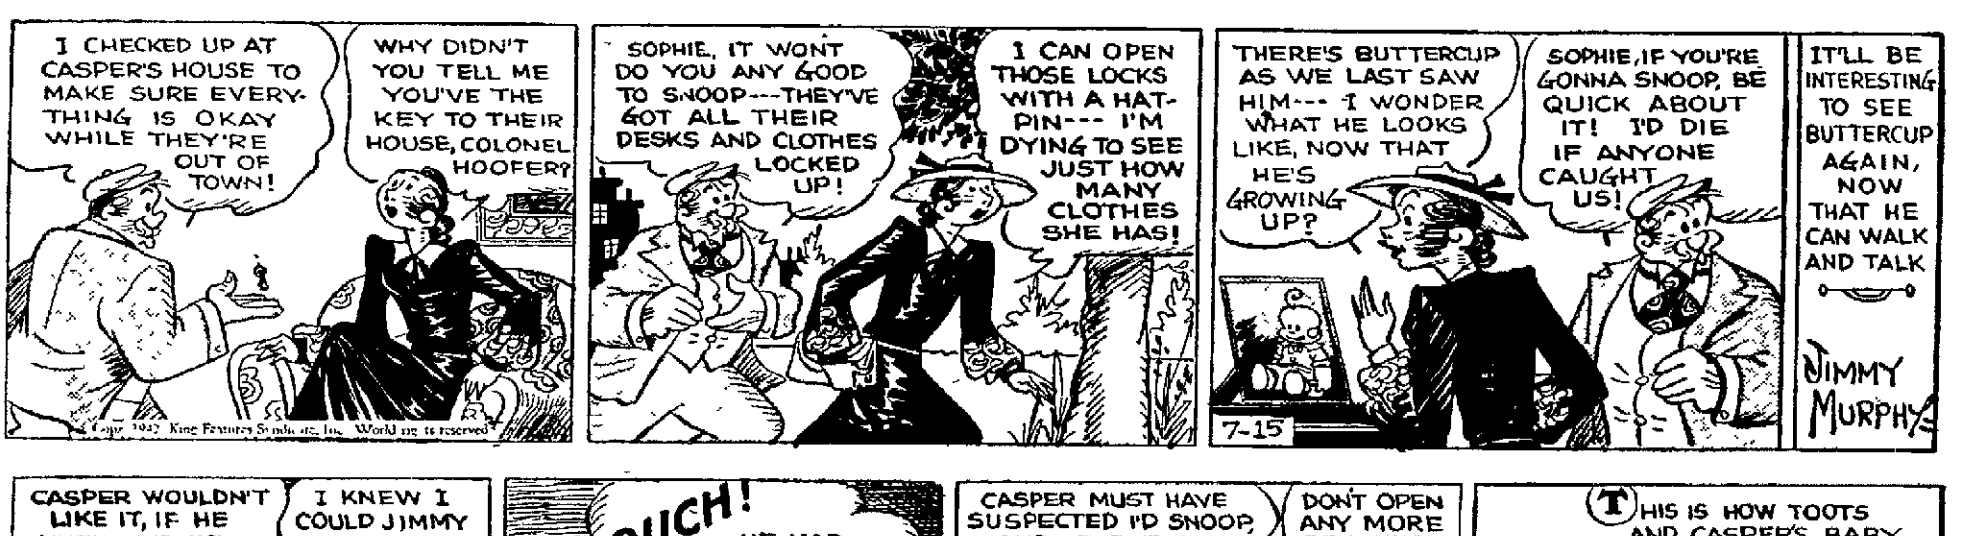
TOOTS AND CASPER

TOOTS AND CASPER LEFT FOR THEIR AUNT CLARA'S FARM, SOPHIE, TO GET THEIR BABY BUTTERCUP!
BUTTERCUP HAS BEEN UP THERE FOR A LONG TIME, AND THEY SAY THE COUNTRY AIR AND SUNSHINE HAVE MADE A NEW BOY OUT OF HIM!
WHEN WILL THEY BE BACK, COL HOOFER?
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
NEXT MONDAY! CASPER SAYS THAT BUTTERCUP IS GROWING FAST, AND CAN WALK AND TALK NOW!
JIMMY MURPHY
TEDDY, MY SON, HE'LL HAVE NOTHING ON YOU! NOBODY WOULD KNOW THAT A FEW YEARS AGO YOU WERE THE BABY IN THIS PHOTO!
I NEVER WAS THAT SMALL, WAS I, PAW?
7-13

CASPER ASKED ME TO KEEP AN EYE ON HIS HOUSE WHILE THEY'RE AWAY, SO I'LL TAKE A LOOK INSIDE TO SEE IF EVERYTHING IS OKAY
FOR VICTORY BUY UNITED STATES WAR BONDS AND STAMPS
HMM-M- HIS DESK IS LOCKED! THAT'S AN INSULT! DOES HE THINK I'D STOOP TO PRY THROUGH HIS PRIVATE PAPERS?
I FOUND THIS BANK STATEMENT OF CASPER'S IN HIS MAIL-BOX---- HMM-M--- I'LL STEAM IT OPEN AND FIND OUT HOW MUCH HE HAS ON DEPOSIT--- SHH-H--- FOOTSTEPS!
JIMMY MURPHY
WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE, AL SKIDDER?
WELL, IT'S THIS WAY, COL. HOOFER--- CASPER ASKED YOU TO WATCH HIS HOUSE, AND HE ASKED ME TO WATCH YOU!
7-14



I CHECKED UP AT CASPER'S HOUSE TO MAKE SURE EVERYTHING IS OKAY WHILE THEY'RE OUT OF TOWN!
WHY DIDN'T YOU TELL ME YOU'VE THE KEY TO THEIR HOUSE, COLONEL HOOFER?
Copr 1942 King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved
SOPHIE, IT WON'T DO YOU ANY GOOD TO SNOOP---THEY'VE GOT ALL THEIR DESKS AND CLOTHES LOCKED UP!
I CAN OPEN THOSE LOCKS WITH A HAT-PIN--- I'M DYING TO SEE JUST HOW MANY CLOTHES SHE HAS!
THERE'S BUTTERCUP AS WE LAST SAW HIM--- I WONDER WHAT HE LOOKS LIKE, NOW THAT HE'S GROWING UP?
SOPHIE, IF YOU'RE GONNA SNOOP, BE QUICK ABOUT IT! I'D DIE IF ANYONE CAUGHT US!
7-15
IT'LL BE INTERESTING TO SEE BUTTERCUP AGAIN, NOW THAT HE CAN WALK AND TALK
JIMMY MURPHY

CASPER WOULDN'T LIKE IT, IF HE KNEW YOU'D SNOOP THROUGH HIS DESK, SOPHIE---
I KNEW I COULD JIMMY THIS LOCK WITH A HAIR-PIN! HE KEEPS HIS BILLS AND LETTERS IN THIS DRAWER!
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
OUCH! HE HAD A MOUSE-TRAP HIDDEN AMONG HIS PAPERS! OW!
CASPER MUST HAVE SUSPECTED I'D SNOOP, AND HE PUT IT THERE ON PURPOSE, COLONEL HOOFER!
DON'T OPEN ANY MORE DRAWERS, SOPHIE! HE MAY HAVE A BEAR-TRAP IN ONE OF 'EM!
THIS IS HOW TOOTS AND CASPER'S BABY, "BUTTERCUP," USED TO LOOK BEFORE HE STARTED TO GROW, AND WALK AND TALK!
DA
WE'LL SOON SEE HOW HE LOOKS NOW!
JIMMY MURPHY

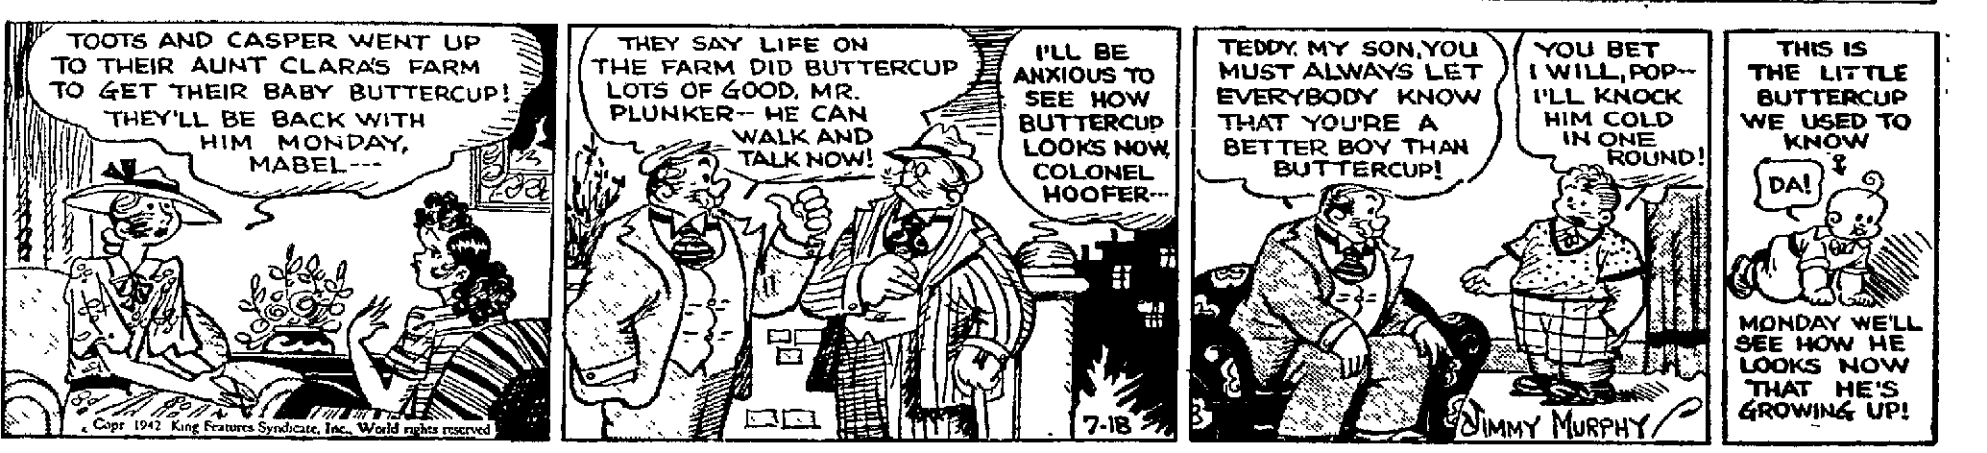
QUICK, COLONEL HOOPER! CALL THE COPS--- CASPER'S HOUSE HAS BEEN LOOTED BY A BURGLAR!!
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved
ONE SOFA---FOUR CHAIRS---HALF OF THEIR SILVERWARE AND LOTS OF THEIR DISHES AND GLASSES ARE MISSING!
DON'T GET EXCITED, AL.! I BORROWED THOSE THINGS FOR A PARTY I'M GIVING TONIGHT!
CASPER WON'T HAVE TO KNOW ABOUT IT--- I'LL RETURN 'EM BEFORE HE GETS BACK TO TOWN MONDAY!
WELL, IF I WAS CASPER AND HAD TO CHOOSE BETWEEN TAKING CHANCES ON A BURGLAR OR YOU--- I'D TAKE THE BURGLAR!
JIMMY MURPHY
7-17



TOOTS AND CASPER WENT UP TO THEIR AUNT CLARA'S FARM TO GET THEIR BABY BUTTERCUP! THEY'LL BE BACK WITH HIM MONDAY, MABEL---
Copr 1942 King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
THEY SAY LIFE ON THE FARM DID BUTTERCUP LOTS OF GOOD, MR. PLUNKER-- HE CAN WALK AND TALK NOW!
I'LL BE ANXIOUS TO SEE HOW BUTTERCUP LOOKS NOW, COLONEL HOOFER---
TEDDY, MY SON, YOU MUST ALWAYS LET EVERYBODY KNOW THAT YOU'RE A BETTER BOY THAN BUTTERCUP!
YOU BET I WILL, POP-- I'LL KNOCK HIM COLD IN ONE ROUND!

IT'S TRUE, PRINCE CAESAR! I DO KNOW THAT MAN!
TAKE HIM AWAY! NOW... WHAT IS YOUR GAME, SAVANNAH? COUNTER-SPYING ON US?
ANSWER ME!
WHY, YOU—
IT'S BAD MANNERS TO SHAKE A LADY, PRINCE!
MEL GRAFF
KURTZ, TAKE THESE TWO TO THE LOCK-UP!
RIGHT, PRINCE CAESAR!
WHY DID YOU SAY YOU KNEW ME? YOU'VE QUEERED YOURSELF FOR GOOD WITH THOSE GUYS!
MAYBE I JUST GOT FED-UP ON RATS, X-9!
OKAY, HONEY... THIS MAKES IT HARDER, BUT WE'LL FIGURE OUT SOMETHING!
SHUT UP!
ANY OBJECTION, IF WE BREATHE, SOURPUSS?
SUCH OBJECTION WILL COME SOON ENOUGH, SWINE!
SERGEANT, THESE TWO AMERICAN COUNTER-SPIES ARE TO BE HELD HERE BY ORDER OF PRINCE CAESAR! KEEP THEM APART!
YAH!
YOUR SHOELACE IS UNTIED.
I KNOW— I OBENED IT, MYSELVF! HA! HA!
UND NEGGS TIME DO NOT TRY SUCH A SCHOOL POY TRIGG TO CATCH ME OFF DER GUARD!
OKAY, KRAUT-FACE! BUT YOU LOOK IGNORANT ENOUGH TO FALL FOR IT!
X-9, WE'VE GOT TO GET OUT OF HERE, SOMEHOW, BEFORE THESE AXIS INVADERS GET THEIR PLANES ASSEMBLED FOR A RAID!
STOP WORRYING, SAVANNAH! THESE PIGEONS WON'T FLY ANY FARTHER THAN A COW!
WISH I WERE AS HOPEFUL AS YOU ARE!
HOPE WE AREN'T DISTURBING YOU, FRITZIE!
HA! I AM ENJOYING IT!
YEAH... YOUR IDEA OF FUN IS BOMBING A KINDERGARTEN OR SIGNING THE SWASTIKA ON A LIFEBOAT WITH MACHINE-GUN FIRE!
SHUT UB!
THAT'S WHAT I SAID... YOU NAZIS TALK BIG—WITH GUNS IN YOUR HANDS! IF YOU'RE SO SUPERHUMAN, HOW ABOUT STEPPING IN HERE AND SLUGGING IT OUT?
GOOT! I WILL SHOW TO YOU WHO IS MASTER RACE!
BEFORE I PUT DOWN MINE GUN, I MAKE SURE YOU ARE NOT UP TO SNEAK TRIGGS! TURN AROUNDT—I SEARCH!
FAIR ENOUGH.
X-9! WHAT HAPPENED? ANSWER ME!
SH-H-H!-YOUR FRIEND ISS ASLEEP! I TELL HIM BED-TIME STORY.. HA! HA!
WHAT HAVE YOU DONE TO HIM?
COME... I SHOW TO YOU HOW A TRUE ARYAN MAKES DER LOVE... FIRST, A KISS, YAH?
LET ME ALONE, YOU FILTHY BEAST!
MEANWHILE, IN HIS CELL, X-9.....

WHAT KIND OF A GAME ARE THE MEN PLAYING, ANNIE? PEEKING THROUGH THE LITTLE GLASS AN' DRIVING STICKS IN THE GROUND — ??
FOR VICTORY BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS
IT'S NOT A GAME — THEY'RE WORKIN' — THEY'RE GONNA BUILD A LOTTA GREAT, BIG HOUSES FOR THOUSANDS AN' THOUSANDS OF SOLDIERS TO LIVE IN
GOODY! GOODY! NOW WE'LL HEAR THE BAND PLAYING AN' WATCH THE SOLDIERS PARADING EVERY DAY —
DARRELL McCLURE
7-15
NO — WE WON'T SEE THE PARADES — 'CAUSE WE WON'T BE HERE — MR. OLIVER GAVE THIS WHOLE PLACE TO THE SOLDIERS — US KIDS HAVE GOTTA MOVE AWAY FROM HERE
OH, WHERE DID THAT CUTE LITTLE HOUSE COME FROM? IT WASN'T THERE YESTERDAY
MAYBE A FAIRY GOD-MOTHER=
G'WAN — SOLDIERS DO EVERYTHING FAST — I'LL BETCHA THEY BUILT THAT LITTLE HOUSE IN TWO MINUTES
DARRELL McCLURE
SEE THAT LINE OF STAKES? THAT'S WHERE THE SOLDIERS WILL HAVE A GREAT, BIG BUILDING — WAIT TILL IT'S FINISHED — THEN YOU'LL SEE SOMETHING!
GEE!
THERE WON'T BE ANY OF US HERE TO SEE THE NEW BUILDING — WE'LL ALL BE SENT TO THE COUNTY ORPHANAGE BEFORE IT'S FINISHED!
LOOK, ZERO — TWO MORE LUCKY KIDS ADOPTED — GEE, IT'S GRAND! NO WONDER THEY LOOK SO HAPPY
THIS MORNING I HEARD THAT MR. OLIVER IS WORKIN' DAY AN' NIGHT TRYIN' TO FIND FOLKS TO ADOPT ALL US KIDS —
7-17
'CAUSE THE KIDS THAT AREN'T ADOPTED BEFORE THE SOLDIERS COME HERE TO LIVE WILL BE MOVED TO THE COUNTY ORPHANAGE
I HEARD THE COUNTY ORPHANAGE IS CROWDED NOW AN' WILL HAVE A HARD TIME FINDIN' ROOM FOR ALL US KIDS
DARRELL McCLURE
I KNOW WHAT A SACRIFICE YOU MADE, TURNING YOUR ENTIRE PLACE OVER TO THE ARMY, AFTER THE YEARS OF HARD WORK YOU SPENT BUILDING IT UP
BANK
PRESIDENT
FOR VICTORY BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS
7-18
WELL, WHEN OUR COUNTRY CALLS, WE ALL HAVE TO DO OUR FULL SHARE — THE COUNTY ORPHANAGE IS CROWDED — THAT'S WHY I NEED YOUR HELP TO FIND ABOUT THIRTY PEOPLE, EACH WILLING TO ADOPT A LITTLE CHILD —
AS A BANKER, YOU KNOW HEAPS OF FOLKS WHO MIGHT BE INTERESTED — THIS IS AN S.O.S.
I'LL DO EVERYTHING I CAN — I'M A BACHELOR, BUT IF YOU HAVE A BOY WHO WOULD LIKE TO BE A BANKER, I'LL —
DARRELL McCLURE
YOU KNOW, ZERO — MOST ALL THE KIDS ARE GETTIN' ADOPTED AN' I'LL BETCHA PRETTY SOON SOMEONE WILL ADOPT US — GEE, WOULDN'T THAT BE GRAND!

I DON'T KNOW! IT'S YOUR MOVE!
GOTTA SURPRISE FOR YA, DATE BAIT -- BE RIGHT OVER!"
7/14
I'M GONNA LET HER WEAR MY CLASS PIN WILL SHE GET A KICK OUGHTA THAT!"
LOOK! BOB'S LETTING ME WEAR HIS SHARPSHOOTER'S MEDAL! ISN'T IT SUPER?
BEASEY! YOU SAID YOU HAD A SURPRISE FOR ME?
NOTHIN'
SKIP IT."
THE NEW NEIGHBORS ARE MOVING IN ACROSS THE STREET--
7/15
MOTHER! YOU OUGHT TO BE ASHAMED OF YOURSELF - HANGING OUT THE WINDOW LIKE THAT!
THEY'VE NICE FURNITURE
SUPPOSE THEY SEE YOU STARING AT THEM! WHAT'LL THEY THINK?
THAT NICE-LOOKING YOUNG LAD MUST BE THEIR SON?
WHERE? HOW OLD IS HE??
CAN'T WE GIVE THEM A HOUSE-WARMING OR SOMETHING?
I GUESS SO!
7/16
THEY'VE JUST MOVED INTO TOWN THEY'RE STRANGERS --- IT'S UP TO US TO CALL ON THEM FIRST!
THAT'S THE SPIRIT -- LOVE THY NEIGHBOR --!
ESPECIALLY, IF THEY HAVE A GOOD-LOOKING SON YOU WANT TO MEET!
OH SO THAT'S IT!
THIS ISN'T THE STONE-AGE!! I CAN'T JUST BOP HIM ON THE HEAD!
THAT NEW BOY HAS LIVED ACROSS THE STREET THREE DAYS AND ETTA HASN'T MET HIM YET!
SHE'S SLIPPING!
7/17
WHO IS IT?
A GIRL WANTS US TO CALL THAT NEW BOY TO THE 'PHONE!
YOU'RE IN LUCK THERE'S A PHONE CALL FOR THAT NEW BOY - DAD WENT TO GET HIM!
WHAT DO YOU MEAN, LUCK? I MADE THE CALL!
SHE'LL GET AHEAD"
HE WASN'T HOME!
IT WAS STILL A GOOD IDEA!
HERE'S YOUR HELMET AND FLASHLIGHT!
THANKS!
7/18
THAT NEW BOY IS AN AIR-RAID WARDEN'S ASSISTANT YOU JUST MISSED HIM!
I WOULD!
IS HE CUTE?
AS YOU WOULD SAY -- HE'S SUPER!
IN CASE YOU'RE INTERESTED - THERE'S A BLACKOUT AGAIN SOON!
THAT GIVES ME SOMETHING TO WORK ON!
